FIRE ALMOST TOTALLY DESTROYS PATERSON--MANY DEAD ST. LOUIS

FIRES at various points throughout the country yesterday brought death to a number of persons and caused monetary losses which will aggregate many millions of dollars. The most serious conflagration was that at Paterson, N. J., which practically wiped out the business section of that city, entailing a property loss which is conservatively estimated at $10,000,000. It was only after many hours of hard work that any portion of the city was saved. A statement issued by the mayor declares that the city will be rebuilt and that no outside assistance is needed.

Eleven persons were burned to death and a number of others seriously burned or otherwise injured in a fire which destroyed the Empire hotel at St. Louis early yesterday morning. The fire found all the lodgers sound asleep and had gained sufficient headway to shut off all the avenues of escape except to two or three fortunate persons who were first to awaken. Nearly all who saved themselves did so in their nightclothes.

Colored Protestant Episcopal Church of the Crucifixion at Philadelphia, together with adjoining parish house, destroyed; loss, $30,000.

Two-story building of William Gray & Sons, stone contractors, at Philadelphia, destroyed; loss, $40,000.

Fire, which destroyed plant of the Shadbolt Manufacturing Company in Brooklyn, N. Y., yesterday morning, entailed a loss of $300,000.

At East Pepperell, Mass., in answering a fire alarm, the town's only fire engine, together with horses and driver, plunged over an embankment into a canal, both horses being lost and the driver uninjured.

Centenary Methodist church at Lebanon; burned; loss, $5,000.

The O'Keefe block at Carnegie, destroyed; loss, $25,000. Aid from Pittsburgh

George White burned to death at Mallards court, Allentown; loss, $1,500.

Pier G of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company at New York, together with the schooner Meteor, two tugs and a steam canal boat, were burned yesterday. The property damage reached a quarter of a million of dollars.

Last night no less than ten alarms were sounded in Pittsburgh between the hours of 6 in the evening and midnight. While none of the alarms developed a big blaze, the fire department was kept constantly on the go.

Business section of Elberton, Ga., destroyed; loss, $100,000.

CONFLAGRATION COSTS PATERSON TEN MILLIONS

Firemen of the New Jersey City and Nearby Towns Contend Fifteen Hours Against Their Gale-Fanned Enemy.

CHOICEST BUILDINGS WERE PREY OF DEVOURING FLAMES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 9.—This city was scourged today by the most disastrous fire in the history of New Jersey. The proud "silk city" is a smoking mass of ruins. The very heart of its business center was eaten out in less than 24 hours by a fire which, for fierce destructiveness, has not been paralleled since that which desolated Jacksonville, Fla.

The aggregate loss is estimated at not less than $10,000,000, and conservative real estate men put the figure only a little lower. So far as is known there was no loss of life, and the few injuries sustained by firemen are not, for the most part, of a serious character. Although more than 300 families are made homeless, most of them are of a well-to-do class, the loss of whose homes has not made them immediate objects of charity.

A relief movement for the care of those unsheltered and unprovided for has already been organized.

Mayor John Hencheliffe said tonight that Paterson would be able to care for her own without appealing to the charity of other communities. The great manufacturing plants of the place are safe and the community, temporarily dazed by the calamity, has already commenced the work of reorganization and restoration.

Fire Started at Midnight.

The fire came at last midnight and was only checked after a desperate fight that lasted until late this afternoon. Every city and town within reach of Paterson sent firemen and apparatus to the relief of the threatened city and it took the united efforts of them all to win the battle. A northerly gale gave the conflagration its impetus and carried its burning brands to kindle the blaze afresh at other points. The firemen made stand after stand before the wall of fire, but were repeatedly driven back and when victory finally came to them they were exhausted.

An estimate made from a general inspection of the smouldering ruins placed the number of dwellings and apartment houses destroyed at 500 and the number of families left without shelter at 1,000. A re-estimate when order succeeds confusion may alter these figures.

Flames Had a Good Start.

The fire began its work of far-reaching destruction at the power house of the Jersey City, Hoboken & Paterson Traction Company, which fronted on Broadway and extended a block to the rear on Van Houten street. It commenced in the car shed and was burning fiercely when one of the employes detected it. It was leaping through the roof and the gale was lifting it in forks and swirls when the fire apparatus came clanging into Broadway, Main and Van Houten streets.

The firemen tried to hem it in, but it speedily crossed Van Houten street in one direction, burned unchecked down into the business district. Every piece of fire mechanism in the city was called out, but fire and gale were masters. A great torch of flame rose high in the air lighting up the country for many miles and carrying a threat and warning to the people and property in its path.

Burned With Great Speed.

There were efforts to rescue furniture and stock, but the speed with which the fire moved gave the rescuers little time. Property was often moved to a place of presumed safety only to be eventually reached and destroyed. The warning to many was brief and they were forced to flee, scantily clad, into streets glazed over with ice and swept by the keen wind.

Main street was soon arched over with a canopy of fire for a block and then for two blocks, as the flames fastened themselves upon building after building. The firemen fought with every resource of their craft and the impulse of desperation, but the flames found new avenues in Ellison and Market streets and got beyond all control. Calls for relief went out to every city in this portion of the state and the jaded firemen labored on through the hopeless hours of the morning.

The city hall, a magnificent structure, surmounted by a great clock tower, situated on Washington, Ellison and Market streets, finally caught and with it went all of the splendid business structures that surrounded it. They made a great furnace of fire that burned with a fierce roar.

There was a series of explosions and scores of walls fell when the fire left them tottering. Flying firebrands carried the conflagration over some buildings and around others, and it, therefore, burned in an irregular course. These brands finally cleared the tracks of the Erie railroad and Passaic avenue, and alighting on Slight street, started another great area of fire, in which the destruction and desolation wrought was nearly as great as in the other.

Another Area of Flame.

This second great fire started at the angle of Park avenue and Washington street, and swept almost unchecked until on these two thoroughfares there was no more fuel. On the right hand side of Market street it encountered Sandy Hill cemetery as a barrier to check it, but on the left hand side at Carroll street, it claimed St. Joseph's church, a great classic stone building. It was on this second great fire that the volunteer firemen from the outside cities did their most heroic and effective work. They fell back only when they had to and when the natural obstacle interposed they seized the chance and stopped the fire.

The final and one of the most des-

PATERSON NEEDS NO HELP; IS TO BE REBUILT AT ONCE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 9.—Gov. Franklin Murphy of New Jersey tonight makes the following statement:

"Paterson is able to meet the emergencies arising from this great disaster without asking outside help. This was the cheering declaration of the mayor and other officials whom I met in conference this afternoon. I was not sent for, but came of my own wish, as soon as possible, to see what I could do, and offer any help in the power of the state of New Jersey. But there is almost nothing I can do. The local militia will be able to furnish sufficient police protection, and no other troops will be called out. I have ordered the quartermaster's department in Trenton to supply all the tents that may be asked for, but I am informed such assistance will not be needed.

"While the catastrophe is too great to be realized at present the people of Paterson have rallied to preserve order and relieve distress with a courage and efficiency which cannot be praised too warmly."

Paterson is to be rebuilt at once, if the action of three of the largest concerns whose property was destroyed is any criterion. These three will begin work with the week on new and important structures. In one case the plans are already under way and in another it was said tonight that actual work would begin within two days.

Bernard Katz, president of the Consolidated Brewing Company, said tonight: "I have already consulted my architect and ordered plans drawns for a new theater to replace the one burned today. We shall not wait for insurance adjustment. The moment the stones are cool work will begin."

The Hamilton Trust Company will begin work in two days on a ten-story fireproof building to cost $200,000.

Quackenbush & Co., whose large department store was burned, announced tonight that a temporary store would be at once obtained and that another would be built on the old site at once. Other similar announcements are expected tomorrow.

FLAMES WRECK BUSINESS BLOCK AT CARNEGIE

Aid Was Sought from Pittsburgh Fire Department, but Volunteers Had Blaze Under Control.

LOSS WILL REACH $25,000

The three volunteer fire companies of Carnegie had such a dangerous and stubborn fire to combat yesterday morning that they telephoned to Pittsburgh for aid. The flames completely gutted the block owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Hill and Michael O'Keefe, and commonly known as the O'Keefe block. The loss will reach $25,000 and threatened to be much greater at several times during the progress of the fire.

The flames were spread by a high wind and the work of the fireman was hampered by the extreme cold and the lack of water, one of the pipe lines being either empty or frozen. Assistant Chief Engineer Michael W. Hannigan was called up by the Carnegie officials at 11 o'clock, when the blaze was at its height, and asked to send some additional hose and firemen to man it.

A special car was secured from the Pittsburgh Railways Company and six men and 1,650 feet of hose were sent to the threatened town. When they arrived, however, the volunteer companies had the fire under control, the wind having died down and the water pressure become stronger.

Servant Discovered Flames.

The fire was discovered about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning by a servant in the employ of John Ryan, who with his family occupied a part of the second floor of the block. His apartments are directly over the stock room of John Mathias, a men's furnishing dealer at No. 7 Fourth avenue, which is one of the five store rooms on the ground floor of the block.

The smoke was coming through the flooring of the Ryan flat when the servant girl discovered it and gave the alarm. Several engines in the Panhandle yards sounded the danger call and soon the volunteer companies were hard at work.

There is a water plug directly in front of the block, and a line of hose was soon run around to the back of the building, but no water was forthcoming until the firemen got a connection on another pipe line. This was on the next street. It seems that the two lines of pipe were originally owned by different water companies and both were forced to put in plugs along their lines.

The blaze was a small affair at first, and was confined to the frame part of the block. However, it spread rapidly, owing to the wind, and by the time the firemen had got fairly to work the flames had secured good headway. The block is in the heart of the business section and for a time it looked as though the entire neighborhood would be swept clean. It was at this time that the Pittsburgh authorities were asked for aid.

The O'Keefe block is a part brick and part frame row of buildings, of which the first floor is occupied by five store rooms and the upper stories as offices and residences.

Loss Will Reach $25,000.

The frame part of the structure was entirely destroyed, and the brick portion was damaged greatly by the flames and water. Stocks in stores and house furnishings were almost entirely burned up. The loss on the buildings owned by O'Keefe and Mrs. Hill and the First National bank of Carnegie, which adjoins, will be about $5,000, covered by insurance.

The losses to the tenants are as follows: John Ryan, household goods, $1,200, no insurance; John Mathias, gents' furnishings, $2,800, insurance $1,500; Solomon Schuler, furnishings, $4,500, insurance $2,500 household goods $1,000, partly covered by insurance; W. E. Yates, leather, $2,500, insurance $2,000, household goods $1,000, insurance $600; A. Balosinsky, furnishings, $8,000, insurance $1,000, household goods $1,000, insurance $500; total, $25,000.

QUAY DISCOVERS STRONG FEELING AGAINST ELKIN

Attorney General's Hope of Success Depends on Coming Election.

SENATOR LEAVES ON A TRIP TO FLORIDA

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 9.

Senator Quay left on the 11 o'clock train this morning for Florida to remain for five or six weeks unless his duties in the senate demand his return before that time. The senator is anxious to remain away as long as possible and does not wish to get mixed up in the contest over state offices until the last moment. He has resolutely declined so far to take any part in the preliminary canvass, and time and again has refused to declare in favor of the nomination of Attorney General Elkin for governor, and when he departed this morning he was still unpledged, although Commissioner Durham came over from Philadelphia to make another effort.

Has Not Declared Himself.

Senator Quay was unaccompanied on his trip unless he was joined after the train pulled away from the depot. Before his departure I endeavored to obtain from the senator his views on political situation in the state, and asked him if he had declared for the nomination of Mr. Elkin.

"I have not," was his reply. "I have declared in favor of no candidate for any office on the state ticket and do not expect to endorse any one for some time yet."

"Will Attorney General Elkin be the nominee?"

"That is a question that I cannot answer. Mr. Elkin and his friends believe that he will be, while, on the other hand, there are many influential Republicans who have assured me that Mr. Elkin cannot be nominated unless I insist that he shall be.

Strong Sentiment Against Elkin.

"There is undoubtedly a strong sentiment in the country districts against the nomination of Mr. Elkin, and for the first two weeks after my return from Florida last month I could hardly open a letter without finding a protest against the nomination of Mr. Elkin. Lately, however, the protests seem to have died out. My judgment is that Mr. Elkin's chances depend a great deal upon the result of the municipal elections this month. After they are over the opposition to Mr. Elkin will either simmer down or will increase to the proportions of a revolution. A defeat for the friends of Mr. Elkin might be damaging to his chances.

"What is your information regarding the municipal contest in Pittsburgh?"

The Decisive Vest Pocket Vote.

"Mixed. Some of my informants are absolutely certain that the so-called Stone-Flinn ticket will win easily, while on the other hand I am assured that there is a big revolt there and that the ticket headed by John B. Larkin will be elected by a decided majority. From all sides there comes reports about the vest-pocket vote to be cast, and this factor may decide the contest. My information is so conflicting that I would hardly know how to bet on the result if I was a betting man."

"Would the defeat of the Stone-Flinn

THE DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE OFFERS REWARDS

Fifty Thousand Dollars Has Been Posted to Pay for Convictions of Election Frauds.

$5,000 FOR EACH OFFENSE

The sum of $50,000 has been deposited with the Democratic city committee to be paid in rewards for information leading to the conviction of election law breakers.

Five thousand dollars will be paid to any person who can furnish evidence of repeating, ballot box stuffing, false counting, interference with legal voting, of any election officer who attempts, against the will of the voter, to assist him in depositing his ballot.

These are the largest rewards ever offered in this city to secure the conviction of those perpetrating election frauds. There will also be sufficient money to defray the expense of prosecution. Some of the best lawyers in the city have agreed to give their services.

SUPPLIED WITH TENTS.

Quartermaster-General of New Jersey Responds Promptly to Request for Aid.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 9.—Quartermaster General Connelly tonight, in response to an appeal from Mayor Hirschfeld, sent to Paterson by special train a great quantity of tents, blankets and other camp equipments for use to relieve the conditions caused by the big fire in that city.

Orders were issued from the adjutant general's office calling out the Paterson battalion of the National guard to do patrol duty and otherwise assist in meeting emergencies that might necessitate their assistance. The battalion was placed under command of Col. Campbell of the First regiment.

LODGERS AWOKE TO MEET DEATH IN TERRIBLE FORM

Eleven Persons Lose Their Lives and Many Are Injured in Early Morning Hotel Fire in St. Louis.

MANY DIED WHILE DRESSING, OTHERS KILLED BY JUMPING

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., Feb. 9.—Eleven lives were lost and six persons seriously burned and others injured in a fire at 4 o'clock this morning at the Empire hotel, a bachelors' apartment house at Twenty-seventh and Olive streets. Ten thousand persons stood in the frozen streets all morning and watched the melancholy work of digging out of the ruins the remains of the unfortunates who went from sound sleep of the early morning to plunge wildly through flame and smoke to their deaths.

Thirty-two guests, a negro porter and a negro chambermaid were in the building—all sound asleep—when the fire broke out. As they were awakened by the heat, smoke or the cries of others in the building they threw open their doors and windows, thereby giving the flames the draught which converted the entire interior of the house into a roaring furnace. With all means of escape cut off, dazed, stupefied, half suffocated before they awoke, the wonder is that any escaped.

Many Deeds of Heroism.

Deeds of heroism on the part of those who awakened first and the presence of mind of a few who saved themselves by forming a human ladder, or who enveloped their bodies in blankets saturated with water and plunged down the burning stairs to safety, form the explanation for the escapes of those who live to tell the story of the fire. Some of the bravest who dared to run the gauntlet of the flames or who flung themselves bodily upon the hope of reaching safety, were saved, but the most of them were badly burned and injured. One man who leaped from the third story window fell on the head on the brick sidewalk and his brains were dashed out. Two of those who jumped from the second floor had their legs broken. At the bottom of the back stairway, which was burned, the firemen today found three bodies. The unfortunate men were within three feet of safety when death claimed them.

No Time to Save Valuables.

Those who escaped did not tarry to don clothes or collect valuables. They took their lives in their hands and were thankful to save their lives alone. Many of the men who were found dead on their beds had on trousers or coats, or both, and one had on his shoes. They had probably snatched their trousers by stepping to the clothing. None of those who escaped had on any clothing save nightdresses.

Rae A. Wesley, a medical student from Galesburg, tied two bed sheets together and slid down his improvised fire escape from a third-story window. C. W. Park of Terre Haute, Ind., and J. Porter, Transit Company conductor, jumped from the second story window. They escaped with slight bodily injuries. Others escaped from the third floor. Probably the men who were suffocated or burned in the building tried to escape down those stairs and finding their way blocked, turned back into their rooms, groped for the windows and suffocated.

How the fire originated is a mystery. One theory is that embers in the basement ignited featherbeds and mattresses which were stored under the rear stairway. The other is that a late guest dropped a match or lighted cigarette in the hallway, igniting the inflammable material under the stairway. Lizzie Harris, the negro chambermaid, was found dead in her bed in the third room just above the stairway leading to the second floor.

City Startled by the News.

The news of the fearful loss of life at the fire startled the city, just recovering from the shock of the catastrophe at the Twelfth street flats, whose occupants were buried beneath falling walls. As the bodies of those who met death within the Empire hotel were found were carried forth today, hundreds of men and women shrank with emotion or burst into tears. Several of the bodies were so badly charred as to be almost beyond recognition.

The Empire hotel was a popular resort for students. They were Harry Cline of Marion, Ill.; George Lane of Richfield, Ill.; Harry Thompson of Knoxville, Tenn.; James Sturgeon of Columbia, Mo.; Thompson and Sturgeon were awakened from the flames and smoke bursting into their rooms. They threw blankets across their bodies and escaped.

Some Narrow Escapes.

Harry Cline, 24 years old, a medical student at Washington university, with George Lane, 20 years old, another first year student, roomed on the second floor. They were aroused by the cry of fire and rushed to the stairs. Lane fought his way down to the first floor landing. Cline leaped from the window, breaking one of his legs and being badly burned all over the body. Lane escaped with slight bodily burns. Cline is at the City hospital. His condition is serious. Cline told the following story:

"I was awakened by the cry of fire and leaping from the bed threw on my trousers

HARRY THOMPSON, medical student, Nashville, Ill.; ankle sprained in jumping from second story window.

J. J. LALLY, manager Empire hotel; back badly sprained while escaping from building.

CON RYAN; burned about face.

About 10 or 12 others less seriously injured, being bruised, burned or suffering from exposure.

ers. I roused Lane by throwing a shoe at his head. He jumped from bed and without stopping for any clothes opened the door and started down the hallway. When the door was opened it created a draught and the flames leaped into the room. Lane ran through a gauntlet of flames to the first floor. The door was locked, but the key was in the hole and he opened it and escaped.

The Leap for Life.

"When the flames burst into my room I jumped on to the window and balancing for a second, leaped fet first to the pavement, a distance of 20 feet. I landed on my feet, breaking my right leg. I must have lost consciousness, for the next thing I remember was that Lane was carrying me away from the building. He said that my clothing was on fire when he found me. I had leaped to the street just as he burst through the hall door and had fallen at his feet."

Walter Johnson, 20 years old, a cutter in the employ of the Hamilton Brown Shoe Company, roomed with R. F. Woodley, who was burned to death in endeavoring to escape. Johnson is badly bucked and both his legs were broken. He leaped from a window on the third floor to the sidewalk below. He says that when he was aroused the room was so full of smoke and fire that he was stupefied and did not take time to put any clothing on or even to balance himself on the window sill before leaping.

Woodley's Awful Death.

Woodley plunged down the stairway, already a mass of roaring flames, and was burned to death.

"I heard Woodley's shrieks of agony," said Johnson today, "and I leaped without thought. Had I remained in the room another moment I should have lost my courage completely and been burned or suffocated."

Four expert cut glass workers from New York formed a human ladder extending from the ground to the second floor and rescued two of their number whose escape down the stairs had been cut off by the flames. A fifth member of the party was in the third story. He leaped, struck feet first on the head of the comrade looking out of the first story window, pitched forward headlong and his brains were dashed out on the brick sidewalk.

The dye man occupied rooms one above their bed and seized their mattress and bore it to the window, that it might be used as a cushion for the fall of those above. As McMahon thrust his head and shoulders from the window preparatory to jumping out he was struck on the back of the neck by a heavy weight. He saw the body of Hall tossed into the street head foremost. His skull was crushed in and his mangled body lay for more than an hour before it was recovered.

Clark and Cowen Saved.

The horror of the tragedy was increased at that moment by the slamming open of the second-story window, from which Cowen and Clark were about to jump. "Get back or you'll be killed," cried McMahon. Then he threw the mattress out on to the ground and jumped after it, while Hart followed. The blanched faces of their two friends were staring down from above. Then it occurred to Hart to form a human ladder. He sprang up on the window, still holding fast to the lower sash of the raised window.

"Hand Cowen down to me," he shouted up to Clark.

"Stand close there, McMahon, to catch him should I miss my hold."

Cowen was already crouched in the window above, clad only in a night gown. While Hart reached up from below Clark braced himself inside the window, and then, grasping Cowen's wrist with a strong hand, swung him down. Reaching out as far as he could, Clark could just lower his roommate until Hart grasped the man's bare legs. The man below could scarcely see Clark on account of the smoke now pouring from the second story windows.

Plan Worked Perfectly.

"Slide down me," he called to Cowen, "and grab as soon as you can."

Between friend and friend Cowen passed the word to release the grip above. On the ground below McMahon stood ready to catch him should Hart's grasp fail. Clarke released his hold. The plan of the men worked perfectly. Three seconds later Cowen was safe on the pavement ready to assist in the rescue of Clark. This was effected in much the same manner as Cowen's escape, the only change being that Clark crept back into his room and secured a towel, which he tied by the casemate and then swung himself down till grasped by Hart below.

property was damaged by fire and water to the extent of about $5,000.

Early in the day the large two-story brick building on the stone yard of William Gray & Sons, at Thirteenth and Locust streets, was also burned. Much valuable machinery in the place was rendered useless. The loss is estimated at $40,000, partly covered by insurance.

BROOKLYN FIRE ADDS $300,000 TO GRAND TOTAL

Number of Firemen Seriously Injured by Flying Debris, But No Deaths Are Reported.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—An official estimate of the damage done by the fire which destroyed the plant of the Shadbolt Manufacturing Company in Brooklyn early this morning, fixes the loss at $300,000. Fourteen people were injured and taken to the hospitals and a number of others were attended by ambulance physicians on the spot. The list of the more seriously injured follows:

Patrick Neyles, superintendent of the repair shop of the Brooklyn branch of the fire department; Edward Treuer, William Moran, George Conran, firemen of engine No. 110; Capt. Oswald, aid to Fire Chief Croker; Joseph Kelly, Louis Jerosky, Roundsman Henry J. R. Taber, Peter F. Martin, Edward Hobby, William Moore, John Reilly, Stephen Delap.

The loss to the Shadbolt company is given as $250,000, fully covered, it is said, by insurance. This loss includes the building and the stock of wagons and carriages manufactured by the company. The total loss to the other buildings in the vicinity is placed at $50,000 and includes Bainbridge's Sons stationery manufactory, a four-story brick structure directly opposite the Shadbolt premises, $10,000, insured; Dickerson & Brown's hat factory, behind Shadbolt's factory, $1,000; J. K. Parker & Company, shirt waist manufacturers, $15,000, insurance $10,000; George McFedden's frame stable, total loss $2,000; eighteen of McFedden's horses were destroyed; three-story brick tenement owned by Stephen Cantonia of Jamaica, Long Island, total loss $4,000, insurance unknown; building owned by Dr. M. Camador, loss on building and to tenants about $6,000.

The blaze was first discovered on the ground floor of the Shadbolt building, which was a mass of flames before the first relay of fire engines arrived. Eventually two-thirds of the Brooklyn force was at work. The Marine fire corps of the Brooklyn navy yard was employed. The injured were struck by falling debris. Some of them, particularly the firemen, are reported to be in a serious condition, but so far no deaths have been reported from the hospitals.

the other in the three floors of the burning building. All are expert cut glass workers in the employ of the Missouri Glass Company. Roused by the roaring of the flames McMahon sprang from his bed. The floor was hot under his bare feet. He opened the door and the flames burst into the room. His roommate, Joseph Hart, awakened and they closed the door.

Saved by a Human Ladder.

With their fists they smashed the glass in the window, and, refreshed by the cold air that rushed into the room, they managed to raise the window. McMahon started to leap barefoot onto the icy pavement. Just then he glanced upward and saw his co-worker, Morris Hall, about to jump from the third story window directly above. Cowen and Clarke were almost as badly off, he remembered. Instantly he gave over plans for his own safety and yelled to Hall not to jump.

McMahon and Hart then rushed to

HORSES, DRIVER AND ENGINE LAND IN CANAL

Massachusetts Village Loses Entire Fire Department in One Unlucky Moment.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EAST PEPPERELL, MASS., Feb. 9.—A serious accident has badly crippled the local fire department. Both horses and the only steam fire engine in the department lies useless at the bottom of the Nashua river paper mill canal, which crosses Main stret near the west end of the Main street bridge. Driver Arthur Gibhart went into the canal with the apparatus, but was rescued only slightly bruised.

The steamer was answering an alarm which was sounded at 6:39 from Station 27 on Railroad square. Driver Gibhart made a quick hitch at the Foster street engine house and turned into Main street with full control of the horses. At Mill street there is a short hill which slopes on a sharp curve to the main street over the Nashua river.

The horses dashed down this hill at a terrific pace and the steamer slewed on the icy ground. Engineer Charles H. Harris and Fireman Arthur L. Ripley realized the danger, jumped and were uninjured. The steamer, which weighs 6,800 pounds, slewed nearly half around, struck the light board fence broadside and made a clean swep into the canal, eight feet below.

One horse was killed or drowned almost instantly and the other was shot three quarters of an hour later. The firemen made every possible atempt to rescue the animal, but on finding it impossible he was ordered shot by Chief G. V. Herrig.

Fire Destroys Business Section of Georgia Town That Had No Apparatus.

ELBERTON, GA., Feb. 9.—Fire here early today destroyed nearly all of the business section of this place, doing damage which is estimated at $100,000. The city has no fire protection and the bucket brigades formed by citizens were of no avail in a temperature of 20 degrees and a high wind.

Among the firms burned out are: Stilwell & Govern, W. H. Corley, T. E. Holmes, E. B. Tate & Sons, two stores the Tate block and livery stables of E. H. Hodgins and M. H. Maxwell, their stock being turned loose and not being recaptured; Taber & Almand, S. O. Hawes, M. E. Maxwell, Joseph Cohen, the T. M. Swift block and the new plant of the Southern Bell Telephone Company. The Elberton light infantry lost all of its furnishings.

Paterson Had a Number of Old Frame Buildings in Its Business Section.

H. Wiley, a prominent traveling man of Baltimore, who is registered at the Hotel Victoria, said last evening that the business section of Paterson which was destroyed by fire was built almost entirely of old-fashioned frame buildings, and that he could readily understand how a fire having its origin in that district and once gaining the slightest headway, would mean the destruction of many blocks.

"The residence portion has many fine houses," he explained, "mainly located on slightly rising ground leading to quite a high hill. The banks, city hall, high school and principal business houses were all bunched close together. Only a few of them were more than three or four stories high, although several may have been as high as seven stories. Very few of the business houses were at all modern and those built of brick were decidedly few and far between."

CHILDREN SUFFOCATED.

They Were Beyond Reach of Assistance While Fire Raged in Their Home.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Jennie and Elsie Berlinger, aged eight and six years, respectively, children of Dr. R. Berlinger, were suffocated and died while a fire was in progress at their father's residence in this city today.

The children were in their room on the top floor when the fire was discovered, and all efforts to reach their room were unavailing, as the fire had broken out in a connecting room, through which it was necessary to pass before the children could be reached.

After the fire was extinguished the bodies of the children were found lying near the door.

Methodist Edifice at Lebanon Damaged Just Before Services Began.

LEBANON, PA., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—The Centenary Methodist church at the corner of Eighth and Willow streets was damaged by fire this morning, caused by a defective flue, to the extent of $5,000. The entire first floor is in ruins, while the auditorium on the second floor is in bad shape.

The fire occurred half an hour before time for church services to commence.

Fish Dealer Almost Cremated.

SHARON, PA., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—W. S. Warner, a fish dealer, had a close call from being cremated this morning. While asleep his bed clothing caught fire and before he escaped he was painfully burned. The fire department extinguished the blaze.

COSTS PATERSON TEN MILLIONS

perate fights of the day occurred in mid-afternoon back in the first fire area at the Hamilton club, situated at the corner of Church and Ellison street.

A Desperate Struggle.

The handsome club house caught and the exhausted firemen were rallied around it. They were anxious to save the structure, and, besides, failure meant that the fire might take new headway among the properties adjoining the club house. The building was doomed, however, but a torrent of water kept the fire to the premises. The four walls of the club house stood, but the roof collapsed and the interior was completely burned out.

Paterson rests in a valley and the conflagration was an imposing spectacle from the rim of hills that wall it in. Columns of flames climbed high in the air and shed their light for miles. Hundreds of persons hurried into the city before daylight to watch the work of destruction at close range, and when the day came thousands more joined them.

Attracted Great Crowds.

The fire became a great popular spectacle that claimed patrons from New York and every outlying town in New Jersey. They crowded the regular trains of the railways operating through here and compelled the dispatching of extra trains. Once in the city they crowded around the firemen and at times hampered them in their work. Police lines were impossible, and throughout the day they poured in an endless stream through the desolate streets.

Great pinnacles of ruined brick stood in every street, but the crowds passed under them unmindful of the warning of police and firemen. With the crowd came thieves and looters, but there was not much pilfering.

Troops Ordered Out.

Under orders from Gov. Franklin Murphy, who hurried here from Jersey City, Companies A, C, K and M of the Fifth National Guard assembled at their armories and were held as a reserve force. The police, deputy sheriffs, hundreds of special watchmen and firemen united in protecting property during the day, and when night came an order clearing the streets was issued by the city and county authorities. Despite the precaution of the authorities there was much confusion in the streets at night. The destruction of wires left the city in darkness save for the dull glow given off by the acres of embers in the two great fire areas. Hundreds of belated visitors crowded around the depots and struggled in the dark for places in the crowded trains. The street railway system was also severely impaired through the injury to its wires.

Early in the day the mayor issued an order forbidding the sale of liquor. It was not obeyed, however, and there was considerable drunkenness.

STREETS ARE MARKED BY ROWS OF SMOKING RUINS

Business Men Make Partial Estimate of the Losses of Individual Firms.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 9.—The area of destruction lies up roughly 25 city blocks. From Main street to Paterson street, between Van Houten and Market streets, there is but little left. On the block bounded by Main, Ellison, Washington and Market streets, not a single building excepting that of the Paterson Saving Institution stands. All along the west side of Main street property is wiped out and on the east side also, from Market to Van Houten streets.

Along the south side of Broadway, between Washington and Church streets, great damage has been done. Van Houten street is reduced to smouldering debris so far as buildings are concerned, for some distance.

Ellison street suffered from the neighborhood of Prospect street, on its north side, as far as Church street. On the south side of this street there is widespread ruin from a short distance west of Main street to the parsonage of the Second Presbyterian church near Paterson street. Market street is a pile of ruins from Main street to the Market street church on the north side and on the south side.

Nowhere was the scene of devastation more marked than north of the Erie railroad, in the district bounded by Sixteenth avenue and Market street. There was simply nothing but ashes left to tell that a busy and populous section of the city had ever existed.

On Washington street, between Broadway and Market street, there is practically nothing left. Church street is wiped out on its west side, between Ellison and Market street, as it is on the east side.

New Buildings Destroyed.

It was in its newest and best-built portions that Paterson suffered, though some of the property now lying in blackened heaps had an interest which came with age and usage. The trolley car stables, where the flames began, had in their time been a skating rink, and also the scene of political rallies and other popular gatherings. The First Baptist church had a history all its own, its origin running back for a century. The old city hall used for a police station, was also a landmark.

Neither the home of John W. Griggs, ex-attorney general of the United States, nor that of Mrs. Garret A. Hobart, widow of Vice President Hobart, was harmed by the fire, both being well out of its path.

Cost Not Yet Counted.

The cost of the fire has not yet been counted with any degree of accuracy, and it will be several days before there can be a definite tabulation of losses and insurance. In the confusion of the day and the rigorous guarding of the burning district at night, it was impossible to locate a majority of the heavier sufferers. The estimate of $10,000,000 will probably cover the destruction broadly, and a group of city officials, who went over the city this evening, were inclined to scale that figure down to between $7,500,000 and $8,000,000 for actual property losses. Their estimate made no calculation for loss on account of suspension of business. A hastily prepared and incomplete list compiled by a business man tonight gives the following estimated losses:

An Estimate of Losses.

HEAVY BLOW IS DEALT TO DEWET'S FORCES

Combined Movement of the British Fails to Secure the South African.

SLIPPED THROUGH LINES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Feb. 9.—From Wolvehoek, Lord Kitchener today telegraphed a long description of a combined movement of numerous British columns with the object of securing Gen. DeWet.

Lord Kitchener says the advance began the night of February 5, the whole force moving from various directions and forming a continuous line of mounted men on the west bank of the Liebenbergs viel, from Frankfort as far south as Fanny's home, and thence to Kaffirkop. The line then advanced to the west, and the following night the British intrenched with their outpost 50 yards apart. They held the line from Holland on the Heilbron-Frankfort block house line, to Doornkloof on the Kroonstadt-Lindley block house line, while the columns were also working in advance of the block house lines to prevent DeWet's crossing. The advance was continued February 6, and DeWet was within the inclosure, but realizing his position, he ordered his men to disperse and seek safety during the night. DeWet himself, with some men and a number of cattle, made for the Kroonstadt-Lindley block house line and at 1 o'clock in the morning, when it was very dark, by rushing his cattle at the fence, broke his way through the line, mixed up with the cattle, losing three men killed.

Many attempts were made to break through the line on the night of February 7, reports Lord Kitchener, the line of outposts being attacked at various places throughout the night. But very few escaped, and 10 dead Boers were picked up in the morning near Heilbron.

"I did not get exact details of the Boer casualties," continues Lord Kitchener, "but, as far as I have ascertained, they consist of 283 in killed, wounded and prisoners, as well as about 700 tired horses and many cattle.

"Our casualties were only 10."

LIBERALS BARRED FROM CITY STREETS

Is a Punishment for Their Attempt to Capture Barranquilla.

NEW GOVERNMENT DECREE

COLON, COLOMBIA, Feb. 9.—News has just reached here that, on January 28, the Liberal residents in the town of Barranquilla, profiting by the withdrawal of 400 government troops to reinforce Panama, made an effort to capture the town. After the exchange of several shots the Liberals were driven to the mountains, where it was impossible to pursue them.

Gen. Gonzales Valencia is expected at Barranquilla with 2,000 troops from the province of Santander. One thousand three hundred troops from the province of Cundinamacoa and 1,200 more from Puerto Berrio are also expected at Barranquilla. Of these latter, a large number under the command of Gen. Tovar will be detached for service on the Isthmus and at Panama.

As a consequence of this Liberal menace at Barranquilla Dr. Joaquin Velez, the civil and military chief of the department of Bolivar, has issued a decree which prohibits all Liberals from walking on the streets of Barranquilla at any hour of the day or night. The chief of police is to enforce this decree by means of an armed patrol.

Following its decree concerning transit through the department of Panama, the Colombian government has issued a second decree with reference to barracks and the housing of troops in the department, including Panama and Colon. This decree orders military chiefs to report to the local authorities the houses necessary for the accommodation of their men. Houses belonging to enemies of the government will be expropriated first. Secondly, those belonging to neutrals will be taken, and lastly, houses belonging to friends of the government will be expropriated.

The property of foreigners, on the assertion of three witnesses that the foreigner has participated in the revolution, will be treated like property belonging to enemies of the government.

Barranquilla, the city referred to in the cablegram, is on the left bank of the Magdalena river, 15 miles from its mouth. It has a population of 18,000.

FILIPINO GOVERNOR RESIGNS IN A HUFF

Declares That the Military Refuse to Recognize His Authority.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANILA, Feb. 9.—The governor of the town of Cagayan, in the province of Misamis, Island of Mindanao, has resigned, claiming that the military authorities there do not recognize his authority in refusing to receive his writs of habeas corpus.

Some months ago many of the leading officials of Misamis province were arrested because they tendered a banquet to an insurgent colonel and because it was proved that they had also contributed funds to the insurgent cause. At that time Gen. George W. Davis, commanding at Zamboanga, Island of Mindanao, requested that the province be transferred from civil to military control. The military authorities in Misamis refused to allow the prisoners to be represented by a lawyer sent by the civil commission from Manila for that purpose, claiming the arrested officials to be prisoners of war. Later Gen. Chaffee instructed Gen. Davis to release the prisoners in question and notified the civil authorities when and where they could arrest them should they desire to do so. But the fact that their offense was committed before the passage of the law of sedition makes further action in the matter improbable. Gen. Chaffee deeming it inadvisable that civilians should be tried by a military commission.

Senor Larma, the newly elected governor of Bataan province, fled after his election when he was called upon to account for $4,000 of insurgent funds. He is still missing.

APPRECIATE CHAMBERLAIN.

Cape Town Meeting Approves His Refutation of Continental Charges.

CAPE TOWN, Feb. 9.—At a mass meeting held here last night a resolution of protest against the slanders upon the honor and conduct of the British forces in South Africa was adopted.

The meeting expressed its warm appreciation of the complete refutation by Mr. Chamberlain, the British colonial secretary, of the continental slanders, its cordial concurrence in the attitude of the government concerning the prosecution of the campaign and its adherence to that policy, which the meeting alone considered could bring lasting peace and public freedom to South Africa. The speeches were received with enthusiastic cheers.

Complaint of American Merchants.

MANILA, Feb. 9.—The American merchants here complain of the action of the insular purchasing agent in making the majority of his purchases at Hongkong, where materials are cheaper on account of Hongkong being a free port.

THE PRESIDENT AT BEDSIDE OF HIS SICK SON

Boy's Condition Not Alarming, but Father Will Stay There Several Days.

A QUICK TRIP TO GROTON

The Chief Executive Was in a Hurry to See His Oldest Boy and Would Not Leave His Train at Boston as Planned.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GROTON, MASS., Feb. 10, 1 a. m.—At this hour Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., the oldest son of the president, is sleeping well and easily and no change is apparent in his condition. After dinner the president, Mrs. Roosevelt and Secretary Cortelyou took a walk about the campus, returning to the building before 9 o'clock. The lights in the infirmary went out, one by one, and now only one dim light is discernible at one end of the building.

GROTON, MASS., Feb. 9.—President Roosevelt reached here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and found that his son, Theodore, Jr., was in no immediate danger, although very ill with pneumonia. The lad's condition is not sufficiently reassuring to warrant the president's immediate return to the national capital.

Young Roosevelt, with two schoolmates, Horace B. Potter of New York and William Gammell of Providence, both ill with pneumonia, lie in large airy rooms on the second floor of the college infirmary. Mrs. Roosevelt has been with her son for two days.

The sick lad greeted his father cheerfully this afternoon. Tonight it was stated that his condition is unchanged and that he is holding his own well. The school has been dismissed and the 150 boys have returned to their homes upon an enforced vacation.

President's Stay Indefinite.

All the sick boys are having the best medical attention and nursing. The president's stay here is indefinite, although it is not believed it will be prolonged much after Wednesday, unless the boy's condition takes a turn for the worse. Pneumonia being always alarming, the president has thought it well to stay here until he has some assurance of his son's recovery.

The president arrived here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon after an uneventful trip of 14 hours from Washington. He came on the private car Rambler, arriving in Jersey City soon after 7 a. m. The car was immediately transferred by boat across the Hudson and up the East river, and left Mott Haven as a special train at 8:20 a. m.

Good News at New Haven.

A stop was made at New Haven, where a dispatch was handed to the president, stating that the boy's condition was encouraging. No other stops were made until Providence was reached, where there was a slight delay on account of an accident to the engine.

The train pulled into South station in Boston at 12:45 p. m.

This is the first visit of President Roosevelt to the Massachusetts capital, and it was there that the only changes in the program were made when the president refused to leave his private car and be driven across the city to take the special private of President Tuttle of the Boston & Maine railroad, in waiting at the North station.

Would Not Leave His Car.

The changes were not made until several minutes after the locomotive had entered the shed with only the president's private car, the Rambler, attached. Then Mr. Cortelyou, private secretary of the president, stepped from the car and announced to the officials waiting:

"President Roosevelt desires that his car be shifted to the Boston & Albany road and then sent over, by way of Cottage Farm and Somerville, to the yards of the Fitchburg division of the Boston & Maine."

Secretary Cortelyou was informed that carriages were in waiting and that at the North station President Tuttle's train was ready to make record time to Ayer, where a carriage was ready to carry President Roosevelt to Groton, a short distance away.

Insisted on His Own Plan.

Secretary Cortelyou again entered the private car and conversed with the president, explaining the plans which had been made here. He returned in a few moments and said:

"The president desires that his car be sent around, as requested. He does not want to leave Boston."

A railroad official gave three short blasts of a whistle and in an instant scores of empties were running from different directions. The word was given that a shifting engine would be brought upon track 24, where stood the president's car. In a few moments a switching engine entered the shed, pushing a train of cars from the local system down a track further along in the shed.

President in a Hurry.

The engineer was signaled to hurry and this he did. Within less time than it takes to tell it the engine was hustling down track 24, where it was connected with the coupling of the private car. Some trouble was experienced in making the connection and so ropes were attached to make it absolutely secure. Then the word was given and the car started out of the shed upon the tracks of the Boston & Albany, bound for Cottage Farm.

The crowd of people who had gathered to get a glimpse of the president were doomed to disappointment, owing to the fact that he did not leave his car. There was not so large a crowd as might be expected on such an occasion, owing to the fact that the time of the arrival was known but to the officials and a few newspaper men, who were on hand early to await the arrival.

Quick Run to Ayer Junction.

The run from Boston to Ayer Junction was made in a little over 40 minutes, and there the car was transferred to the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester division of this road, the train arriving in Groton at 2:30.

There were no crowds at any of the stations, except at Ayer, where there was a gathering of about 500. The president came out of his seclusion and bowed to the crowd from the back platform, his appearance being greeted with cheers.

The Rev. S. Endicott Peabody, the principal of the Groton school, was at the Groton station to meet the president and with him was the Rev. Sherrard Billings, his assistant.

Carriage Was Waiting.

The president, with Secretary Cortelyou, immediately jumped into a two-seated democrat wagon and Mr. Billings drove the party rapidly up the hill to the school building.

Mrs. Roosevelt was at the window as the president drove past into the yard, and greeted him as he mounted the stairs. The two then went to the sick boy's room and the president was delighted to find that his son's head was very clear and that he was overjoyed to see his father. The president did not remain long, however, although he spent several hours in the office on the ground floor.

The president and Mrs. Roosevelt together with Secretary Cortelyou are being entertained at the house of William Amory Gardner, brother-in-law of Mrs. "Jack" Gardner of Boston, a very wealthy man, but nevertheless one of the instructors in the school.

MRS. SOFFEL HOVERS AT POINT OF DEATH

AN ATTACK OF PLEURISY SET IN YESTERDAY MORNING.

Her Left Lung Is Now Congested—Physicians Are Using Their Utmost Endeavors to Stay the Course of the Disease—A Collapse Is Now Feared.

By GIBBONS MARSH,
Staff Correspondent.

BUTLER, PA., Feb. 9.—Mrs. Soffel is now suffering with pleurisy. This morning it was discovered by the attending physicians that the pleura was badly inflamed. Her left lung, the side which the bullet penetrated, is also considerably congested. Her recovery now is not so certain as it was yesterday.

Since her confinement in the hospital the physicians have exerted themselves to the utmost to avert this inflamation but, notwithstanding their combined skill and attention, the trouble appeared. Every effort is now being made to preserve her life.

During the day she suffered greatly. She could only breath with great difficulty. Late last night she was resting more easy than at any time since her admission to the institution. She slept for three hours. This is the longest period of unbroken rest she has had. When she awakened from her last interval of sleep this morning, she complained of an oppression on her lungs. The physicians made an examination and immediately discovered that she had pleurisy.

Further examination brought out the fact that her left lung was congested. Immediately the attending physicians became apprehensive. Mrs. Soffel was dangerously ill before this attack. Now she also has this trouble to contend with. Almost all day the physicians were constant in their attendance at the hospital. She can only speak in gasps and is dispirited and doleful about herself. The fear now is a collapse that may prove fatal.

Mrs. Soffel's mental condition had brightened considerably before this attack of pleurisy set in. The physicians were most hopeful, as it was her mental torture that troubled them most. With her mental relapse and her lung trouble her chances for recovery are doubtful.

There will be a meeting of the board of directors of the hospital here tomorrow. It is believed its purpose is to take up some question relative to Mrs. Soffel's case. It is possible that Allegheny county will be asked to pay for the care and treatment of Mrs. Soffel. However, this is largely surmised. None of the directors have made any intimation that they will present a bill for Mrs. Soffel's care. They say their institution is a charitable one, and if Allegheny county does not care to reimburse them, they say they will be satisfied, as they are running their institution for humanity's sake.

Mrs. Soffel is confined in one of the best rooms in the hospital and has excellent care and most efficient medical attention. No one called to see Mrs. Soffel during the day. She read during the afternoon. Tomorrow her attorney, Richard E. Scandrett, will come from Pittsburgh to confer with her with reference to making plans for her case.

ACHESON FOR CONGRESS.

Formally Announces Himself and Says He Would Not Accept a State Office.

WASHINGTON, PA., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—Congressman E. F. Acheson stated today that he had officially announced his candidacy for a renomination in Beaver county and was preparing to make a similar announcement in Lawrence county. He has been an open candidate in Washington county for some time. Mr. Acheson was very confident that he would secure a renomination and places great hope in Lawrence county. Mr. Acheson was of the opinion that if he secured the congressional nomination he would be in a position to name the candidate for state senate from the Beaver-Washington county district and the assembly candidates from Washington county.

When asked if he had been offered the position of secretary of the commonwealth, should Governor Elect Pennypacker be elected, Mr. Acheson stated that he had been approached by a prominent partisan of the state machine and that such a proposition was made to him. Mr. Acheson stated that he was only a candidate for congress, and under no consideration would he accept a position in the state cabinet.

FIREMEN TO TRY AGAIN.

This Time They Hope for the Support of the Mine Workers.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Feb. 9.—The stationary firemen's union of the anthracite region will hold a convention at Nanticoke on March 1. Notices to that effect were mailed to all subordinate unions today. It is the object of holding the convention to take action on the eight-hour day. Last July the firemen struck for an eight-hour day, but were not successful, returning to work after four weeks of idleness at the old terms. It is said if a demand is made by the coming convention for an eight-hour day it will be supported by the United Mine Workers' organization.

The failure of the last strike was due to the fact that the miners were not in sympathy with it.

A FOUL MURDER DISCOVERED IN SAN FRANCISCO

Young Girl's Body Is Found Three Weeks After the Crime Was Committed.

POLICE ARE ON THE TRAIL

Murderer Has Disappeared, but Officers Hope to Find Him—Another Body Raised at Lowell—Officials Not Yet Satisfied.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Feb. 9.—The atrocious murder of 14-year-old Norah Fuller, whose decomposed body was found in an empty house at 2211 Suiter street yesterday afternoon, has startled San Francisco.

The girl had planned to do some work to help in the family support. She answered an advertisement "for girl to attend baby" on January 8, meeting a man who gave the name of John Bennett. From that day till her body was found, no trace of the girl was discovered.

Bennett, who gave the name of C. D. Hawkins, on that day, rented the Sutter street house and paid one month's rent in advance. He also bought a second-hand mattress, pillows and chair. The neighbors saw a girl and a man enter the house that day but after that neither was seen.

Yesterday, when the rent was due, a clerk found the nude body of the girl lying on a mattress in one of the rooms. There was no furniture, water or gas in the house. The girl's clothing was neatly placed on the single chair. One card was found containing a business address in Port Arthur, with "Serebrenik" on the corner. It was learned today that Serebrenik was a family friend of Novah Fuller who sailed for China the day before she disappeared. Bennett has had fully three weeks to escape, and the police have no trace of him.

BOSTON, MASS. Feb. 9.—The government is not lying idle for a moment in its search for evidence to connect Miss Jane Toppan, the famous poisoner, with the score of murders at Calumet last summer. State officers have been quietly but persistently looking up all of the causes of the deaths of persons who were at any time nursed by Miss Toppan. At least one more body has now been exhumed and the viscera removed for examination.

The last body exhumed was that of Mrs. Bannister, who died at Lowell, and who was nursed by Miss Toppan. An officer, who is quite closely connected with the case, states that the parts were delivered to Prof. Wood of Harvard for examination and that they are still in his hands.

It is said the state officers used all secrecy in exhuming this last body and that it was done in the night. Meanwhile Miss Toppan remains in the little county jail at Barnstable, contented, well, and so far as known, still believing she can establish her innocence at the proper time.

Pastor Causes Sensation--Collegians Fight License

CUMBERLAND PASTOR CALLS COUNCIL TRAITORS

WANT HIM TO RESIGN

He Preaches a Sermon Comparing Them With Judas, Brutus and Czolgosz.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., Feb. 9.—The biggest church sensation in this community for years happened today when the Rev. Theodore J. Yost, who today celebrated his seventh anniversary as pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, the strongest Lutheran church in the city, compared his church council members with Brutus and Judas of ancient times and Czolgosz of recent date.

For several years past prominent members of the congregation have manifested much dissatisfaction with the work and methods of the Rev. Mr. Yost, which culminated in the congregation selecting seven members out of eight of the church council who are unalterably opposed to continuing him as pastor. The church council last week passed a resolution requesting Mr. Yost to resign on or before May 1, as thereby the interests of the church would be advanced and in case of such resignation were not voluntarily presented before February 20 they would demand his resignation, to take effect May 1.

Members of the church council present at the service today plainly showed resentment at the words of the pastor comparing them with Brutus, Judas and Czolgosz, and in one instance heated words were passed between a member of the council and a follower of the Rev. Mr. Yost.

For some time Mr. Yost has not been affiliated with the Cumberland Ministerial association, the alleged cause of the estrangement being the action taken by the above body against certain ministers giving hackman a percentage of the fees made by them for bringing them couples to marry.

BOILER BLEW UP.

Explosion of a Freight Locomotive Kills Two Railroad Employes.

LIMA, O., Feb. 9.—The boiler of a freight locomotive on the Lake Erie & Western railroad exploded today while the engine was standing on a siding near St. Mary's. Fireman Floyd Brown of Lima was killed outright, and Engineer Edward Casey of Fremont was scalded so badly that he died a few hours later. A number of cars were wrecked. A defective crown sheet is supposed to have been the cause of the explosion.

A WOUNDED ROBBER SPIT OUT BULLET

He Refuses to Talk—He Is Now Expected to Fully Recover.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LANCASTER, PA., Feb. 9.—John Thomas, the robber who was shot in the face during the raid on the Gap National bank early Saturday morning, was subjected to a severe questioning today in his cell at the county jail, and though told that he might die, admitted nothing except that his home is at Bath, Me.

His wound has improved so much that his condition is no longer considered dangerous, though he is still unable to take solid food. Probing could not reveal the bullet and it is thought that he spat out the lead after it had shattered his jaw. He claims to have been shot on a freight train near this city, but his story is lacking and conflicting in details. He was viewed this afternoon by Detectives Dougherty, Donohue and McGinley of Philadelphia, but they could not identify him.

There are no clues yet to the five others who escaped.

MARTINS FERRY, O.—The offer of the Riverside Bridge Company to locate a $100,000 plant, giving employment to 200 men, in this city, if Martins Ferry business men would contribute $10,000 in stock subscriptions, was made Friday night. WASHINGTON, PA.—"Buck" Redmond, Harry alias "Rags" Mull, Pleasant Brooks, David Monroe and his wife Annie, George Baker and Thomas Miller, the negroes implicated in the robbery of the Adams Express Company's office here last Monday, will have a hearing tomorrow morning. CUMBERLAND, MD.—Walter Carpenter, a well-known saloon keeper at Harrisonville, W. Va., was recently indicted in a large number of cases for selling liquor without license. He allowed the suits to go against him by default and has been fined in amounts footing $1,100, with $143 costs. He sent a check for the amount, but never appeared in court.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—The stonemasons and carpenters of this city are demanding an increase in wages for a working day of eight hours. The stonemasons at present receive 45 cents an hour, or $3 60 daily, and they ask 50 cents hourly, or $4 a day. The carpenters have been getting $2 50 for eight hours, and now demand $3 for the number of hours.

GREENVILLE, PA.—The Citizens' league has entered a campaign against the building of a $30,000 town hall, which the borough council proposes to build in the spring. At the November election a proposition to bond the town for $25,000 for the purpose of erecting the building was carried by a vote of 2 to 1. The league thinks a $10,000 structure will meet all requirements.

CAMBRIDGE, O.—Hugh Monegan, who was acquitted last week of violating the prohibition ordinance, has entered suit against Morton C. Campbell for $5,000 damages. He alleges in his bill that it cost him $105 to defend himself, and that his reputation was damaged for the balance, and he blames Campbell, who is president of the Young People's union, for it all.

CHESTER, PA.—John J. Kearns, an insurance agent, and well-known here, was killed yesterday afternoon by being struck by the Florida special, northbound, on the Pennsylvania railroad. A few moments before the accident he was talking with the watchman at the crossing about a woman having been struck by a train a short distance up the road. The woman was not fatally injured.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association was to have addressed a labor gathering at Ellwood City Saturday night, but he failed to arrive and caused keen disappointment to several hundred workers who had assembled in the Ellwood opera house to hear him. President Shaffer was detained at New Philadelphia, O., as a telegram received in the evening announced. In the absence of Shaffer, John W. Slayton, the local Socialist candidate for mayor, addressed the meeting.

COLLEGE MEN OPPOSE SALE OF LIQUOR IN WASHINGTON

REMONSTRANCE SIGNED

Faculty and Students United in the Fight Against the Saloon.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Feb. 9.—The movement against the granting of liquor licenses in Washington is being continued with great vigor by the students of Washington and Jefferson college, aided by the faculty and patrons of the school. This afternoon in the college chapel a mass meeting of college men was held and strong resolutions against the granting of liquor licenses were presented and adopted almost unanimously. W. J. Miller, Jr., state secretary of the student organization of the Y. M. C. A., addressed the students. The remonstrances against the licenses have received the signatures of most of the college men and have been handed to the faculty.

WASHINGTON, PA., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—An anti-liquor fight has been started in Waynesburg as the result of the avowed purpose of proprietors of certain hotels of the town to file applications for retail licenses. The authorities of Waynesburg college and the church people of Waynesburg have circulated petitions against the granting of the licenses and the newspapers of the town have taken up the fight in favor of the anti-saloon people.

MORE RAILROADS WANTED.

Coal Land Options Allowed to Lapse. Another Concern May Renew Them.

WASHINGTON, PA., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—The Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh has released the farmers of Donegal and Independence townships, in this county, and Buffalo district, Brook county, W. Va., from option contracts which were drawn up several months ago. The Pittsburgh company some time ago optioned 15,000 acres of valuable coal land in the districts named for $25 per acre, the contracts being valid until February 1. The coal field is one of the largest in the two states, but was practically valueless on account of there being no railroad facilities. The Real Estate Trust Company made several efforts to have the Pennsylvania Railroad Company build a branch road in the coal field in order to give them an exodus. The proposed branch road was to start from Wellsburg, W. Va., but the Pennsylvania company declined to build on account of their already heavy coal traffic.

There is a probability, however, of the coal being reoptioned by Washington county capitalists at a much higher price than was formerly offered. It is claimed the Wabash officials are contemplating the construction of a road into the territory, which will give the egress desired and increase the value of the coal fields almost a hundredfold. The proposed branch road will leave the main line at Cross creek valley, follow the Ohio river to Wellsburg and from there follow Buffalo creek, passing through Bethany, W. Va., and then by way of Taylorstown, this county, to Waynesburg. Prices ranging from $100 to $200 per acre are now being asked, and should the road be constructed as contemplated, the price will go up considerably.

BLOW CURED BLINDNESS.

Accident While Sleighing Restores Sight to a Young Woman.

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—Miss Lulu Conrad, a charming young woman of this place, aged 18 years, who since early childhood has had trouble with her eyes and wore glasses for seven years, being unable to see without them, had her eyes repaired in a remarkable manner last week. While out driving with a sleighing party Miss Conrad was thrown from the sleigh, sustaining a bump over the eye that broke the glasses and blackened both optics.

She was forced to remain in a darkened room for several days, and when the swelling was finally reduced and the spectacles put on, she found she could not see. After a day or two she ventured out into the light and then made the pleasing and startling discovery that she was able to see perfectly out of both eyes.

A Restaurant Episode.

A Sort of Straw Vote

An advertising agent, representing a prominent New York magazine, while on a recent western trip, was dining one evening in a Pittsburg restaurant.

While waiting for his order he glanced over his newspaper and noticed the advertisement of a well known dyspepsia preparation, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets; as he himself was a regular user of the tablets he began speculating as to how many of the other traveling men in the dining room were also friends of the popular remedy for indigestion.

He says: "I counted twenty-three men at the tables, and in the hotel office I took the trouble to interview them and was surprised to learn that nine of the twenty-three made a practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

"One of them told me he had suffered so much from stomach trouble that at one time he had been obliged to quit the road, but since taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets had been entirely free from indigestion, but he continued their use, especially while traveling, on account of irregularity in meals, and because like all traveling men he was often obliged to eat what he could get and not always what he wanted.

"Another, who locked the picture of health, said he never ate a meal without taking a Stuart Tablet afterward because he could eat what he pleased and when he pleased, without fear of a sleepless night or any other trouble.

"Still another used them because he was subject to gas on stomach, causing pressure on heart and lung, shortness of breath and distress in chest, which he no longer experienced since using the Tablets regularly.

"Another claimed that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was the only safe remedy he had ever found for sour stomach and acidity; he had formerly used a common soda to relieve the trouble, but the tablets were much better and safer to use."

After smoking, drinking or other excesses which weaken the digestive organs, nothing restores the stomach to a healthy, wholesome condition so effectually as Stuart's Tablets.

Miss Della Dively, 4827 Plummer St., Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I wish everyone to know how grateful I am for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for a long time and did not know what ailed me. I lost flesh right along until one day I noticed an advertisement of these tablets and immediately bought a 50 cent box at the drug store. I ate only on the second box and am gaining in flesh and color. I have at last found something that that has reached my ailment."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contains the natural digestives, pepsin, diastase, which every weak stomach lacks, as well as nux, hydrastis and yellow parilla, and can be safely relied upon as radical cure for every form of poor digestion. Sold by druggists everywhere. A little book on stomach troubles mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

MANY MILLIONS REPRESENTED BY THREE COUNTIES

Returns Made for Allegheny, Armstrong and Beaver for Last Year.

VALUE OF REAL ESTATE

Figures from Greater Pittsburgh Which Are Dazzling in Their Immensity—Enormous Sums Earned by Residents.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 9.—The annual returns of the year 1901 from Allegheny county to the department of internal affairs, contain the following information:

The number of taxables in Allegheny county as shown by the commissioners' report is 270,-910. Number of acres of cleared land, 318,-514, and the number of acres of timber land, 28,461.

The value of the real estate is placed at $602,036,356. The value of real estate exempt from taxation is given at $79,143,990, and the total value of real estate, taxable, as $542-892,546.

The commissioners' report an ownership of horses, mules, etc., above the age of 4 years, of 31,143, with a valuation of $1,830,813. The number of neat cattle above the age of 4 years is given at 18,349, with a valuation of $411,825.

Salaries and emoluments of office in this county are given at $48,750,756.

Over Half a Billion.

The aggregate value of all property taxable for county purposes is $594,066,910. This property assessed at 2 mills provides a county tax amounting to $1,188,013 82.

The amount of money at interest in Allegheny county, including mortgages judgments, bonds, notes, stocks, etc., is given at $112,-872,140.

The value of stages, omnibuses, hacks, etc., is given at $111,970. It cannot be possible that the gross undervaluation of this class of property is avoided in the other items to which reference has been made.

The aggregate amount of state tax is $449,-936 44. Allegheny county has a bonded indebtedness of $3,162,558 77.

For the support of the poor there was collected as a direct tax $160,509 74. In addition to this amount there was appropriated by the city of Pittsburgh $167,861 61 and by the city of Allegheny $76,610 46. There was collected directly for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges $201,889 05, and in addition to this amount there was appropriated by the city of Pittsburgh $727,829 17 and by the city of Allegheny $228,374 84.

To Educate the Young.

For the maintenance of the schools there was collected $1,846,694 92, and for other purposes, including the support of the county government, $9,270,354 47, or a total of $11,570,-428 12.

The taxes collected on personal property amount to $439,048 37; on occupations, $285,-104 82; while the licenses for the year amount to $5,412,504 69.

The total amount of taxes collected on the real estate of railroad corporations through local channels was $107,808 09. The amount of taxes collected from other corporations than railroads through local channels, was $1,-070,244 37.

Armstrong County's Returns.

The returns from Armstrong county follow:

The commissioners of Armstrong county report the number of taxables to be 18,497; number of acres of cleared land, 284,544 and number of acres of timber land, 93,417.

In the valuation of real estate the total is given at $11,823,963, and the valuation of real estate exempt from taxation $496,096, while the value of real estate taxable is given at $10,877,980.

The commissioners report 3,119 horses, mules, etc., with a valuation for these animals amounting to $220,627. The number of cattle above 4 years of age is given at 8,246 and their value is placed at $108,823. Comment upon this is not necessary, but it is difficult to pass an item of taxation where the failure to properly assess property is so apparent. As to assume that in the county of Armstrong there are practically only $100,000 worth of cattle above the age of 4 years is too ridiculous to receive consideration.

Reward of Labor.

Value of salaries and emoluments in office in the county are reported to be $546,364.

The aggregate value of all property taxable for county purposes is $11,792,884. The total amount of county tax levied was $57,571 58.

The county of Armstrong reports money at interest to the value of $1,453,513.

Armstrong county, like many others, fails to assess with proper value the stages, omnibuses and hacks, the total amount reported for the county being only $5,760.

The aggregate amount of state taxes assessed in the county during the year was $8,937 00. The county has an indebtedness of $168,300.

Looking at the returns of the amount of taxes collected for the different purposes it is found that the maintenance of the poor during the year cost the county $21,921 40. The county has collected for the purpose of the construction and repairs of streets, roads, etc., $25,709 90; for the support of schools, $54,-820 00, while the total amount of taxes for all purposes amounts to $188,611 46.

The Taxes Collected.

Classifying and subdividing these totals it is found there has been collected during the year $10,977 31 on personal property, while from occupations the amount collected was $16,665 73. The total amount of money collected for licenses of all kinds and descriptions was $71,800; the amount of taxes collected on railroad corporations, $2,855 05, and the amount of taxes collected through local channels from other than railroad corporations amounted to $4,201 06.

From the recent census it appears that of the taxes collected the per capita chargeable to the support of the poor was 42 cents; chargeable to the maintenance and construction of streets, railroads, etc., 55 cents; chargeable to schools, $1 04, while the per capital tax for all purposes amounts to $3 49.

Again, of the total amount of taxes collected 12 per cent was for the support of the poor; 15 per cent for the construction and maintenance of roads, streets, etc.; 29 per cent for the support of the public schools and 43 per cent for county and other purposes.

Beaver County Returned.

The returns from Beaver county follow:

The commissioners of Beaver county report the number of taxables to be 16,704; the number of acres of cleared land, 214,855, and the number of acres of timber land, 52,555.

The real estate of all classes is valued at $25,410,850, while the real estate exempt from taxation is placed at $1,442,485, and the real estate taxable is valued at $23,967,895.

Figures are returned by the county commissioners as part of the report 7,275 horses, mules, etc., valued at $268,480, while the number of cattle above 4 years of age is reported at 7,709 with a value of $132,782.

The value of salaries and emoluments of office is given at $1,583,445 county purposes, which of course includes the real estate and the personal property of all kinds, on the amount of $26,220,602, upon which the total amount of county taxes assessed at the rate of 4 mills on the dollar amounts to $104,-882 05.

The amount of money at interest, including mortgages, judgments, bonds and stocks, is given at $2,463,169.

The value of stages, omnibuses, hacks and cabs amounts to $8,915.

Money Out at Interest.

Beaver county pays tax to the state on money at interest and on other properties subject to state taxation to the amount of $11,-094 27. The county has the good fortune to be free of any bonded indebtedness.

During the year there was collected for the support of the poor $25,950, and for the construction and maintenance of streets, roads, etc., $159,442 84; for the support of the schools, $114,719 85, and a total for all purposes of $350,378 96.

Personal property in the county during the year yielded a tax of $46,537 14, while from occupations there was collected $29,476 14, and from licenses $14,927 05.

The property of railroad companies upon which taxes were collected locally yielded to the county $2,027 85, while the property of other corporations than railroads taxed locally yielded $24,932 20.

For the support of the poor the per capita tax in Beaver county was 59 cents; for the maintenance and construction of streets, roads, etc., $3 84; for the support of schools, $2 63, while the total for all purposes was $6 02.

In the way of percentages, 9 per cent of the total amount of taxes collected was for the support of the poor; 41 per cent for the maintenance and construction of streets, roads, etc., 20 per cent for the support of the schools and 24 per cent for county and other purposes.

CHANGE OF RULES WILL BE DRAGGED INTO THE COURTS

Action of the Republican City Committee to Be Tested by Fifth Warders.

ILLEGALITY IS ALLEGED

A Democratic Saloonkeeper on the Republican Ticket Has Angered Chairman Thompson and He Has Retained an Attorney to Fight It.

In order to name a Democratic saloonkeeper for select councilman on the Republican ticket in the Fifth ward, the Republican city committee was called together and the rules warped to fit the case. This was followed by the nomination of the Democrat, and today the real Republicans of the ward will file a protest in the courts.

The machine has found that its hope of success in the Fifth ward is slight. P. J. Barry and J. J. Hughes, the candidates for select and common councils on the Citizens ticket, have had the lead from the start. Everything possible has been done to have them put off the ticket.

When they were nominated by the Democrats a rump convention of machine Democrats was held and James Hamilton was named for select council. He is a Democratic saloonkeeper who follows the Sixth avenue leaders.

Meeting Illegally Called.

Both tickets were thrown out by the court. Then Barry and Hughes were put on the Citizens ticket. This was followed by a meeting of the Republican ward committee, illegally called, at which James Marr, the supposed Republican candidate, was withdrawn and James Hamilton substituted. This was opposed by Ward Chairman Joseph Thompson, Secretary L. S. Levine and others. The result was that Roger Eagan, a Republican policeman, was named by the objectors. Both papers were certified and late in the week the courts decided that neither was legal.

This left the Citizens party in possession of the field. It was then that Senator William Flinn and Recorder J. O. Brown threw aside their cloak of "regularity" and started their time-honored custom of getting out of a hole by amending the rules.

Things Overlooked.

It is alleged that in their haste several important matters were overlooked that are necessary to make the meeting legal.

The first meeting was held Thursday and the second Saturday. When the rules were amended so as to remove the time limit of 15 days prior to the election in which ward committees can fill vacancies, the power is also conferred on a majority of the committeemen, and the secretary is not required to give notice of a meeting.

These rules were made to fit the Fifth ward case, and Saturday night a majority of the committee put Hamilton on the ticket. Chairman Thompson has retained Attorney C. A. O'Brien, who will today go into court and attempt to have the nomination declared invalid. He says that reasons will be set forth, one being that the city committee was illegally convened.

BURGLARS IN BEAVER

They Enter a Number of Houses and Secure Hotel Boarders' Money.

BEAVER, PA., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—This town for the second time within the past few days was visited by burglars. Motorman Carl and John Alexander of the Beaver Valley Traction Company's lines and William Shields, a brakeman of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie electric signal corps, being today the losers of $20, $22 and $21 respectively. The three boarded at the Hotel Mayon, formerly the Hotel Edwards, in Third street, and roomed on the third floor. This morning they discovered their trousers missing and with them the money. The wearing apparel was found on the rear porch. Unlocked rear and guests' room doors furnished an easy entrance.

Chief of Police Moore, late of Wilkinsburg, has not met with any success as yet in locating the burglars who, it is suspected, are also guilty of breaking into Aaron Wilson's large drygoods store on Thursday night and stealing several hundred dollars of goods and jewelry.

Killed by a Shifting Engine.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—Dr. T. S. Troxell of Gallitzin, one of the most prominent men in the county, was killed last night near Lilly. He had been to that place to see a patient and on the way home his sleigh was struck by a shifting engine and instantly killed. He was an official of the Cambria County Medical society. He leaves a family.

MOTHERHOOD WAS CROWNED BY JESUS

THE REV. B. GWERNYDD NEWTON PAYS A HIGH TRIBUTE

Tells His Congregation That Mary Has Not Been Honored Enough by Protestants—Jesus Said on Calvary, "Behold, Thy Mother."

The Rev. B. Gwernydd Newton, pastor of the First Congregational church, Fifth avenue and Washington street, paid a beautiful tribute to Christian motherhood, as represented by the mother of Christ, during the course of a sermon last night, from the text, "Behold Thy Mother."

This is the coronation of motherhood, he declared. The Master's amidst the fierce conflict of the cross, ere His own victory seemed but half won, pauses a moment to enthrone His mother. This is one of the most pathetic scenes in the most pathetic life of Jesus Christ.

Look at Him from Mary's standpoint, the woman whom the Lord had called highly favored and blessed among women; the woman who had declared that "all generations shall call me blessed."

A Mother's Hopes.

Here is a mother who had loved her child better than her life, having treasured fond hopes in her heart, and witnessed for thirty years of budding manhood the promises of life and glory in her remarkable son, her soul fired by the wonderful things that had been said of Him from Bethlehem to Jordan, her hope enhanced by the more wonderful deeds He himself had wrought.

Then, again, her widowed heart, tortured by anxiety, during the terrible year of public disapproval and opposition, and now standing on Calvary while the heart of her heart, the soul of her soul, the hope of her hope was crucified as malefactor and dying what, to the Jew, was the most ignominious death, the sword of Simeon cleaved her soul in twain. What language can describe her feelings?

Greatest Human Suffering.

There is nothing more tragic in the Bible or out of it. What mother has so suffered? What a mother can suffer at a time like this none but a mother can tell. It were infinitely easier to die for Him than to see Him dying thus. Mary had none of the thoughts in the death of her son that have so softened the sorrows of others in similar circmstances. Humanly speaking, no woman had greater cause for despair. Is this the person of her whom the angel said was blessed among? Where her blessedness? Is this the end of Him whom she had thought would redeem Israel? Mary did not give way, but, as the evangelist says, "stood under the cross."

Her fortitude and love won for her the greatest honor conferred upon womanhood, the recognition from the cross of the knowledge of indebtedness on the part of Christ in these words, "Behold thy Mother."

Motherhood's Great Comfort.

Mary went home that day with John, knowing that her image was engraven on the heart of Jesus. The only bright light in Mary's cloud that day was the thought that she had not been forgotten, but that He had loved her even to the very end. Thus Jesus Christ built His mother's monument before he completed the building of His own throne. He immortalized her thus, and while we have no sympathy with the idolatry that would place Mary on an equality with the Lord Himself, or in any way make Mary more than human; while we have no sympathy with those people who overlook the historical facts in the case of Mary which show her to be a mother with all the frailties of human nature, we cannot but believe that in the hearts of Protestants Mary has not been honored as she ought to be.

Must Heed These Lessons.

We dare not, as we value the teaching of our Master, overlook these lessons; that He publicly acknowledged His appreciation of His mother; that in forgiving her He placed a crown on the heads of mothers of all ages; that He has taught us in life and in death to appreciate the gift He Himself made possible—Christian motherhood. If we would be like Jesus we will love our mothers and keep green their memory. Is she dead or widowed? Accept the charge from the Master—"Behold thy Mother!"

Shield, support, become all things to her, not only for her sake, but for the love of the Master who has so honored His mother and dead? Then "Behold thy Mother." Build her monument; keep her good name. Is she living? Then love her more than life, keep her as the apple of thine eye; have no thought but of her comfort. Heaven grant us no greater privilege than to strew flowers under the feet of mother as she journeys to the grave and soften her pillow ere she lie down to sleep. No man ever went to hell with his mother's picture in his heart, for love is the passport of the Paradise of God.

The Rev. B. Gwernydd Newton.

COLORED VOTERS INDORSE ACTION AGAINST FLINN

United Labor League Receives Notice of Vote Taken at Convention.

ALL WARDS REPRESENTED

Members Decide That Congressman Dalzell's Action on Chinese Exclusion Shall Be Watched—Seven New Delegates Admitted.

The United Labor league of Western Pennsylvania at its meeting last night received unqualified indorsement of its anti-Flinn attitude and support of the Citizens party from 156 representatives of the colored voters of Pittsburgh. The resolutions presented in behalf of the colored voters declared absolute approval of the "declaration of independence" by the league, as prtuted in The Gazette two weeks ago.

The colored voters of Pittsburgh held their convention in Nichols hall January 31. Every ward in the city was represented and it was stated in the report made to the United Labor league last night, which also said that the action indorsing the position of the league had been unanimous. The league received the resolutions of the representatives of the colored voters with a vote of thinks.

Will Watch Dalzell.

Replies from Senators Quay and Penrose and Congressman Graham were received by the league in response to the resolutions of the Pittsburgh labor body for the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion law. The replies received approved the attitude of the league, which voted, as the sense of the meeting, that all delegates note that Congressman Dalzell has not replied in reference to the resolutions submitted to him, and that his attitude in the matter be watched.

One of the delegates, representing the painters, was withdrawn from the league, and this led to a discussion of a report that the painters would affiliate only with central labor bodies of the American Federation of Labor.

Delegates from the painters denied this.

New Delegates Seated.

Seven new delegates were admitted in the league last night, representing Typographical Union No. 7, the machinists of Braddock, the Amalgamated Society of Engineers and the Allegheny division of the railway conductors. A league committee was appointed to assist the electrical workers, to organize the men of their craft working in private electrical plants.

Alexander Hunter of the painters and vice president of the Building Trades council thanked the league for its support in recommending his recent appointment as assistant building inspector. Trustees of the league were instructed to secure the use of K. of L. hall, No. 535 Smithfield street, for its bi-monthly meetings.

FREIGHT TRAINS IN A REAR END COLLISION

A Caboose and Two Cars Were Destroyed, Two Brakemen Hurt and a Track Blocked.

A rear end collision occurred between two freight trains on the Youghiogheny branch of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad on the outskirts of Boston, near McKeesport, about 7 o'clock last night. Almon Wilmarth, age 28 years, single, of McKees Rocks, and John Hobart, both brakemen on the first train, were seriously injured.

Wilmarth had his chest crushed and at the McKeesport hospital, where he was taken, it is said that he will die. Hobart had his knee cap injured, but was able to continue his run.

The trains were running in the direction of Pittsburgh, and passed through Boston only one minute apart. The first train was made up of 75 loaded coke cars and the second, going at a greater speed than the first, had 10 cars, also loaded with coke.

The caboose and two cars of the first train were completely destroyed, and the second engine was badly damaged. The two injured brakemen were in the caboose at the time of the accident and had no time to escape. The south-bound track was blocked for some time by the debris, but the south-bound track was utilized and there was no delay in traffic. It is not known who is to blame for the fact that the trains were running so dangerously close together.

EVERY HOUR IS ADDING DANGER TO ICE GORGE

Continued Cold Binds Fetters More Strongly on Allegheny River.

BRIDGES ARE THREATENED

Old Rivermen Say That It Will Take Big Flood to Move the Immense Mass That Fills Stream for Fourteen Miles.

The property interests along the lower Allegheny river are confronted by a danger that is hourly growing more imminent. From Eleventh street, Pittsburgh, to Logans ferry, 14 miles above, the river is covered and the channel blocked by the greatest ice gorge within the memory of the present generation.

Every hour adds to the thickness of the mass and the constant freezing that is going on threatens something approaching a disaster to railroads, manufacturing industries and householders in all close proximity to the banks of the river below the head of the gorge.

Old rivermen, who have been up to look over the gorge, say that it is the largest and most dangerous that they have ever seen in the stream. The river has been very low recently and the channel is blocked by the great ice field to within a few inches of the bottom in most places.

Is a Dangerous Gorge.

The strength and solidity of the gorge is always its most dangerous point, and unless all indications fail there is bound to be "something doing" when that mass, containing millions of tons, is finally started from its moorings.

An old boatman, who has lived along the stream for years, was looking over the gorge near Six Mile Island on Saturday, with two or three other rivermen of long experience. They were unanimous in saying that nothing less than 25 feet of water would budge the gorge, and that it might take 35 feet to move it.

With the channel filled with the huge blocks of ice the river is bound to overflow at the first rise of any consequence, and the great mass will probably, as is usual when a gorge breaks, give way all at once, and the mass will tear down stream, destroying everything in its path.

Bridges Are in Danger.

The old bridges which cross the stream at many points along the gorge are almost sure to be carried away if the break comes on a big rise. The new bridge which the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago is building at Tenth street has a large part of the channel filled with false work, although every stick of timber that can be safely spared, has been removed in readiness for an emergency.

A flood stage which would carry out the gorge would seriously endanger this structure as well as the others built across the stream at points in the gorge. The huge cakes are piled high against their piers and the river channel is fairly choked with them.

The continued fall in the river has left only a few inches of water between the bottom of the ice floe, and the intake pipes at the Brilliant pumping station, and a further curtailment of the city's water supply is probable unless the mass of ice is soon carried away.

Will Flee Before Storm.

Many of the cakes are as big as ordinary houses and when they hit anything in their swirling course down the stream much damage is bound to result. Old residents along the river bank are looking for trouble at the first thaw of any magnitude, and many say that they will move from their homes as soon as the ice begins to move.

The railroads whose tracks run along the banks, the Pittsburgh & Western, Buffalo & Allegheny Valley and West Penn divisions of the Pennsylvania are keeping a close watch on the great mass of ice and when the first thaw comes watchers will be posted along the banks to look out for the least sign of a break-up, so that warning can be given and valuable freight and passenger trains moved out of danger.

If the gorge remains until March it is likely to be attacked with dynamite in an effort to move it before the heavy spring rains come on. This is the course usually tried in cases where a gorge endangers life and property for any length of time. There is, of course, a possibility that the big mass will move out quietly and without doing any more damage than smashing a few bridge piers, but the chances are all against such a fortunate conclusion.

CAR WHEEL BROKE.

Three Passengers Were Injured and One May Die as a Result.

AKRON, O., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—The breaking of a wheel on a car on the Kent division of the Northern Ohio Traction Company, shortly after midnight last night, resulted in the injury of three persons. The car was running at a high rate of speed and the dozen passengers were very badly shaken up.

Howard Foster of Kent, was the most seriously injured. His injuries may result fatally. James Blakesley of Stirres and Miss Maud Durbin of Cuyahoga Falls were also badly bruised, though no bones were broken. The accident occurred half way between Akron and Cuyahoga Falls.

Saved by a Teamster.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—The timely arrival of a teamster at Broad Oak bridge, this county, saved the lives of three boys. Eight-year-old Ray Coffman was skating on the ice in the creek, which a hot sun had rotted. He went through. Al and Charles Talbott, a few years older, went to his rescue, and also sank beneath the surface. The latter stopped on the bridge, removed the check lines from his horse, took on one at a time, and drove off without giving his name.

SMALLPOX CASES ARE INCREASING

TWO CHILDREN IN A STUDENTS BOARDING HOUSE VICTIMS.

Every Precaution Taken to Prevent a Spread of the Disease—Another Patient in the McKeesport Hospital Will Cause Quarantine to Be Established.

The prevalence of smallpox about Pittsburgh is causing a great deal of anxiety to the authorities of the bureau of health. Every means possible is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease, and still fresh cases are developing almost every day. In many of the recent cases, like two discovered yesterday, there is grave danger that the afflicted people have been mingling with many others, which may cause further spread of the disease.

Yesterday afternoon City Physician D. A. Booth was called to look at two children at No. 803 Bluff street. They had been ill for three or four days, and yesterday the attending physician requested Dr. Booth's attendance, fearing smallpox. The city physician was not long in discovering that the children were suffering with well defined though light cases of smallpox. They, with their father and mother, were at once removed to the Municipal hospital.

The danger from this case lies in the fact that 18 students at Pittsburgh college make their home in the house. William Reilly and his wife live in the basement and are employed to care for the students' rooms. Reilly's two children, Margaret, aged 6 years, and Catherine, aged 4 years, also live there, and it is the little ones who have the smallpox.

Dr. Booth vaccinated all of the students yesterday afternoon and had them change their quarters immediately. He fumigated the house thoroughly and has made arrangements to vaccinate all the students at the college today. Inasmuch as the Reillys kept pretty close to their part of the house it is hoped that the precautions taken will prevent any spread of the disease. The children especially were seldom allowed in the upper part of the house.

Smallpox has again broken out in the McKeesport hospital. Samuel Butler, a colored man, aged 34 years, who has been in the hospital since early in January with pneumonia, developed the disease yesterday. He was immediately removed to the municipal pesthouse in Versailles township.

Investigation of the case developed the fact that Butler had been in the same ward with James Walsh, who was removed from the hospital two weeks ago suffering with smallpox. It is supposed Butler contracted the disease from Walsh. The board of health will hold a meeting today and will in all probability quarantine the hospital again.

DR. M'CUNE'S BRIDE SAYS SHE MARRIED FOR LOVE

The Heroine of a Peculiar Romance Denies That Two Men Matched for Her Hand.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Harry E. McCune, heiress to a fortune of $200,000 and heroine of a love affair, returned to her home, No. 4035 Powelton avenue, last night. She is the young woman for whose hand it had been said two rival lovers had matched nickels in Hot Springs, Ark., where they met her. She is the bride of Dr. Harry E. McCune of Braddock, Pa., and it is not denied that he only won her against his friend, W. A. Kulp, after an earnest competition.

The bride is only 16 years old. She is the daughter of a Philadelphia manufacturer, from whom she received her inheritance.

Mrs. McCune told the story of her marriage last night. She said:

"Really, there isn't a bit of truth in the tale that Dr. McCune and Mr. Kulp matched nickels for my hand. It is true that I was married to Dr. McCune, and it's fair to presume that I was married to him because we love each other. Isn't that why folks generally get married?

"I met the doctor and his friend in Hot Springs. We were married in Cincinnati last Sunday. Mr. Kulp was best man. Dr. McCune will come here tomorrow. That's all there is in the story, except that mother did not make any objection."

Whether Miss McGeah was unable at any time to decide which of her lovers she would marry she refused to say. She said, however: "Isn't it sufficient evidence that I was married to Dr. McCune?"

Dr. McCune is a graduate of the Western university of Pennsylvania, class of '98.

NEW COLLEGE FOR NEGROES.

Industrial Institute Similar to That at Tuskegee Has Been Opened in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—The Industrial college for the training of negro boys and girls has been opened in Bronze T. Washington hall, No. 407 South Sixteenth street. The new institution is to be conducted upon lines similar to Hampton and Tuskegee institute.

Five mechanical trades and a class in cookery and domestic science constitute the courses of study for the present. Both day and evening classes are to be taught. This is the first industrial institution established by negroes exclusively in this city and the third for the training of colored youths.

The school building is conveniently situated in the midst of that class in whose interest the work has been started, but is not adapted to the work in every particular. An appeal has been issued asking for funds to erect a new building.

SUGAR AS BAD FOR HUMANITY AS ALCOHOL

St. Louis Chemist Says That It Causes Nerve Soreness and Other Serious Evils.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., Feb. 9.—Frank P. Morrison, a chemist of this city, who was in delicate health for a long time, began a year ago to make experiments to ascertain how far the use of sugar affected his physical well-being. For 12 months he has cut used sugar in any form.

As a result of his experiments he declares:

First, Sugar is more of a stimulant than a nutriment.

Second. Its disuse greatly strengthens the nervous system.

Third. Its fuel value as a food is more than offset by the injury it does to the internal organs, particularly the heart.

Fourth. That, since leaving off sugar entirely, he has been able to swim for hours in cold water, when formerly such exercise chilled and benumbed him.

Fifth That, because of its stimulating effect and the hold it gets upon a person as a habit, sugar-eating is more difficult to abstain from than alcohol or tobacco.

Sixth. That he can endure far more pain and fatigue now than he could before he began his unsweetened existence.

Mr. Morrison, when asked about his claim, said tonight: "Sugar is, of course, good fuel food, and that is one of the arguments upon which sugar users always rely. Gunpowder is also an ideal fuel, yet no one would for that reason think of employing it in a stove. Acting as a nervous stimulant and irritant and as a fuel, sugar has much in common with alcohol, and in its effects upon sensitively organized persons, such as children and young girls, it produces results almost identical.

"Sugar eating makes nerve soreness. Every nerve in your body has a touch of it, and sore nerves, like any other sore thing, cannot endure the thought of pain. Would you like to be so that you enjoyed the prospect of going to the dentist and march up his stairs with pleasurable anticipation? Stop eating sugar for a few months. And, mind you, use no tobacco.

"If you want to feel like a new person and find out why life is well worth living, first stop being a 'Slave of the Sugar Bowl.'"

OCEAN LINERS CONTEND WITH ROUGH WEATHER

Lucania Had Pleasant Voyage Until Eastern Edge of Banks Was Reached.

WIRELESS MESSAGES SENT

Marconi System Again Demonstrates Its Usefulness—Steamship Philadelphia Has Hard Battle With Heavy Gales and High Seas.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Cunard steamer Lucania reached her dock in this city today with Capt. Alexander McKay, who has succeeded his brother, Capt. Horatio McKay, former commodore of the Cunard fleet, retired, on the bridge.

Capt. McKay reports fine weather all the way across until he reached the eastern edge of the Banks. From there he says they had a lively gale all the way. When 24 miles off the Sandy Hook lightship at 5 o'clock yesterday the Lucania sighted a four-masted schooner sunk with only her spars showing above the water. A flag which could not be made out from the Cunarder was flying from the schooner's mizzen. Capt. McKay stood down toward the wreck until he was able to make out that no one was clinging to the masts. An hour later he passed a derelict which he took to be a coal hulk, floating around about 14 miles east of the lightship.

Telegrams Interchanged.

The operator in charge of the Marconi plant on the ship held a wireless telegraph talk with the Umbria in mid-ocean for several hours, during which something over 100 telegrams were interchanged to be sent from the Lizard and Nantucket lightship, respectively, to friends of passengers on this side and in England. The operators indulged in a friendly chat after the commercial messages were disposed of, in the course of which the Umbria's man said that they had experienced unsettled weather, but did not mention any extraordinary storm.

Sir Charles Bart, a former member of parliament, also came on the Lucania. He is the father-in-law of Commander Clifton Slater of the British naval ship Condor, which is supposed to be lost in Pacific waters. He is going to Esquimault, B. C., to join his daughter, Mrs. Slater, and look after her affairs.

Philadelphia Breaks a Record.

The steamship Philadelphia of the American line, which arrived today, broke the record for having longest communication with the land by means of the Marconi wireless telegraph system.

On Saturday, February 1, the steamship was at 12:15 p. m., a few miles off the Lizard. Messages were then exchanged and the telegraphing was kept up until midnight of the following day. The last message was sent when the Philadelphia was 150 miles distant from the land. This last message was a communication from the American line officials in England to Capt. A. R. Mills of the Philadelphia. This is the longest distance in which wireless communication has ever been had between a steamship and the land.

Laid Over at Cherbourg.

Because of the severe weather the Philadelphia had to put into Cherbourg, where she was delayed for over 16 hours. The Marconi system was continually working while the vessel was lying to, the connections at all times being perfect.

Capt. Mills said that he had never experienced such terrific weather before as that which was met on the voyage. The waves continually washed the decks of the ship and the wind was bitterly cold. On Sunday the gale had increased so in violence that Capt. Mills was afraid to put out to sea and so the stop at Cherbourg was made.

Among the passengers who arrived on the Philadelphia was Fiske Warren, who left Boston last fall with Sixto Lopez for the Philippines. Mr. Warren separated from Lopez at Hong Kong and went to Manila, where he was required to take the oath of allegiance before he was allowed to enter the city.

A. L. SCHULTZ RESIGNED.

Pittsburgh Official of the American Bridge Company Will Leave on March 1.

Albert L. Schultz, head of the operating department of the American Bridge Company for the Pittsburgh district, has resigned his office, to take effect March 1. Mr. Schultz will be succeeded by Marshall Williams, who has had charge of inspections of all operating shops under Supt. Percival Roberts, Jr., and his successor, Joshua A. Hatfield, the present head of the company. Contrary to report, no other changes in the bridge company affecting Pittsburgh are to be made.

Mr. Schultz's resignation indicates no friction in the Pittsburgh or general offices of the big constituent of the United States Steel Corporation. When he took his present office it was with the understanding that he would spend about six months in the position, in which time, it was expected that his department could be put in smooth operation.

This work has taken longer, and now that his intentions have been carried out, Mr. Schultz has decided to retire, and it is said may soon be found at the head of a more profitable enterprise of his own.

The organization of the $70,000,000 company was in large measure a work of Mr. Schultz. I. Gifford Ladd of Providence, R. I., was ostensibly the promoter of the company, but Mr. Schultz did some of the most important work in its organization. At that time he was the head of the Schultz bridge and iron works, McKees Rocks, one of the interests of lesser importance taken over by the American Bridge Company.

Marshall Williams, who succeeds Mr. Schultz at the head of the operating department for the Pittsburgh division, which embraces practically all the works between Philadelphia and Western Ohio, is one of the most practical men of the company. Before the organization of the new company he held an important operating office in the Pencoyd bridge works, Philadelphia.

FOUND DEAD IN A CHAIR.

Negro Believed to Have Been Asphyxiated by Fumes from a Gas Stove.

James Taylor, a negro, was found dead sitting in a chair in front of a gas stove in Frank Hilton's barber shop, No. 1403 Wylie avenue, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Taylor, who was homeless, for several weeks past had been allowed by Hilton to sleep in the barber shop. When Hilton arrived at the shop yesterday morning he found Taylor sitting in a chair in front of the stove with the gas turned on to the full extent.

He tried to arouse the supposed sleeping man, but when he placed his hand on Taylor's shoulder the latter toppled over on the floor. Hilton called in a physician at once, who, after an examination, said Taylor was dead and had been a corpse for several hours. The physician was of the opinion that the dead man had been asphyxiated by the fumes from the gas stove.

Taylor was about 38 years old and as far as known had no relatives in this part of the country. The body was removed to the morgue and the coroner will investigate the case today.

PRATT WAITED FOR BETTER CHANCE

NOW HE IS THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF KENTUCKY.

Declined to Appeal His Case to a Democratic Tribunal—When the Political Complexion of the Court Was Changed He Made a Successful Contest.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LEXINGTON, KY., Feb. 9.—Attorney General Clifton J. Pratt, alone of all the members of the Republican ticket in the now famous Goebel-Taylor gubernatorial campaign of 1899, will enjoy the emoluments of his office. He takes the place from which he was ousted a year ago, on April 1, and the fact that he is reinstated is due to a shrewd piece of political foresight which his fellow office holders did not possess.

On the face of the returns the Republican officials were elected. The Democrats contested and boards of contests were appointed in the legislature and reported adversely to the Republican claimants on February 26, 1900. The Republicans refused to give up their offices and the Democrats resorted to injunction in the circuit court of Judge James C. Cantrill. He granted the injunction and at once dissolved it on his own motion in order that the case might be taken to the court of appeals at once. This action on his part caused much adverse comment from the lawyers at the time. The Republicans carried the case to the court of appeals which decided that the action of the board of contest was not subject to review.

Pratt alone of the contestants refused to appeal his case. He waited until the fall election by which the political complexion of the appellate court was changed from four to three Democratic to four to three Republican, Democratic Chief Justice Hazelrigg being replaced by Edward C. O'Rear, Republican. Before the new court, Pratt appealed his case and the final steps have just been taken. The court reversed the former holding in regard to boards of contest and awarded the office to Pratt. Pratt's move was misunderstood at the time and he was condemned by Republican papers for lack of pluck.

Judge Pratt was a candidate against W. S. Taylor for the nomination for governor in the convention of 1899, but losing for the main office, contented himself with the attorney generalship, which he has at last come to enjoy. The Pratt case is the most unique turn in politics in the history of Kentucky.

POLICE COURTS WERE BUSY.

Policeman Arrested by a Fellow Officer in Frankstown Avenue Was Discharged.

Police courts in the two cities were fairly busy yesterday morning, 122 prisoners being given hearings. Of this number Magistrate Bernard McKenna, in Central police court, heard 72 cases. Thomas Roberts was sent to the workhouse for 60 days on a charge of robbing gas meters. Two other men, with whom it is alleged he was working, are already doing time. Fred Hotel and C. R. Orr were fined $25 each for taking some money from Sofia Sharusky.

Magistrate John H. Armstrong had a peculiar case in Oakland court. Lawrence Sabert was fined $5 for disorderly conduct. He had been arrested in Frankstown by Policeman Dennis Hahn. Policeman Grant Stover arrested Hahn for alleged disorderly conduct in arresting Sabert. The officers' stories of the arrest were not much alike and Magistrate Armstrong discharged Hahn without making any comment.

Magistrate D. J. McGarey, in South Side court, discharged George Didrich of No. 1917 Fox street, who was charged with disorderly conduct. Didrich alleged that A. P. Lewis and Calvin Schall, who were arrested with him, had assaulted him and taken $20 from him. He made information against Lewis and Schall, charging them with assault and battery and attempt at robbery. They were held for a hearing Friday.

Magistrate Henry Hennesbagen, in Allegheny court, fined John Irwin of No. 1214 Loraine street $10. Irwin was arrested on complaint of his wife, who testified that she had been drunk for a week and that on Saturday night he came home and beat her and drove her out of the house with a poker after threatening to kill her.

Mayor of Charlotte Refuses to Bow Down to the Cook County Democratic Club on Sunday.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 9.—The first unpleasant feature to mar the pleasure trip of the Cook County Democratic club to Charleston, occurred in Charlotte, famed as "the cradle of liberty," and a Bryan stronghold. Although the city is under a Democratic administration, Mayor Brown refused to officially receive a club on Sunday.

When the special reached Charlotte this evening the members were piqued to be received by a few prominent citizens in an informal manner. This state of affairs was due to the fact that Mayor Brown was elected upon a blue law platform. Charlotte is closed so tightly upon Sunday that neither drinks, cigars, drugs nor foodstuffs can be purchased.

A conference will be held before the end of the present month, so that if additional meetings are necessary all issues may be settled before the opening of the new scale year, April 1.

MANY ARE ANXIOUS FOR SOFFEL'S PLACE

His Successor Is to Be Selected Soon and There Is a Lively Fight for the Job.

A lively scramble has started for the position of warden of the Allegheny county jail. It pays $2,500 a year. A warden is to be elected by the prison board just as soon as that body completes its investigation of the Biddle escape. A number of candidates for the place are already in the field and are bringing political influence to bear in their behalf.

It is said that ex-Warden Peter K. Soffel will be exonerated by the prison board after its investigation, and despite his emphatic statement that he is done with the jail forever, he may be tendered the honor of a re-election, as a method of showing that he is not held responsible in any way for the escape. The friends of Mr. Soffel assert, however, that he will not accept the place again.

Among those mentioned as the probable successor of Peter Soffel are Deputy Sheriff William German and Deputy Lewis, also of the sheriff's office, David Weaver of the county commissioners' office, ex-Sheriff Harvey Lowry, and the acting warden, James Marshall.

Mr. Marshall said last night: "I will put in an application for the position, but if politics is to be a factor in the matter, I will count myself out."

Mr. Marshall has been employed at the county jail in various capacities for 23 years, serving under Wardens Smith, Berlin, McAleese and Soffel.

At the time of the Biddles' escape he was deputy warden and was elected to serve temporarily as warden. In the several changes of wardens that have taken place no criticism has ever been applied to Mr. Marshall, and he has been regarded always as an efficient and faithful officer.

Mr. Soffel has visited the jail almost daily since he resigned. Saturday ex-Warden Soffel called at the jail and in the evening attended a meeting of the Republican committee of the Fifth ward in the Hancock school house, and acted as secretary of the meeting. His friends remarked that the former warden is bearing up bravely under the blow sustained by his wife's connection with the Biddle affair.

TWELVE PAGES

A Formidable Arraignment.

Not the least striking feature of the address "to the people of Pittsburgh," issued by Messrs. Guthrie and Crawford, is the portion telling that "the organization which for so many years has had the almost uninterrupted and absolute control of your city * * * is in power today by virtue of a secret political deal between its leaders and the governor of the state," who, "although no charge had been made, felt obliged to issue a proclamation telling you he had not been bribed." The charges against the city administration that follow are a severe arraignment, but the introduction quoted is so strong a condemnation in itself as to make it more easy to believe all the rest. Some of the charges are well known to be true. The giving away of public franchises is one of them. The sting would have been removed from this had any disposition been shown to tax these valuable gifts, which are, as is declared, capitalized by the corporations that hold them at a sum greatly in excess of the debt of the city. The Highland reservoir scandal and the governor's alleged connection with it, a connection that has not been denied, is another heavy load to carry. The deplorable neglect of the water facilities in the business section of the city, that imposes an unnecessary burden of $800,000 a year on the business community, is, of itself, enough to imperil the political future of any set of men responsible for it. Another large water item that is brought up to plague the organization in control is the manner in which the filtration project has been juggled to the hurt of the taxpayers, who are paying interest on bonds, the proceeds of which are lying idle in the banks, not a dollar having yet been used for the intended purpose, while another bond issue for the same object is on the program, it being designed to swell the cost of filtration millions of dollars beyond the original estimates. On top of all these charges relating to the water supply of the city is the allegation that the city is made to collect twice as much from the people for water service as the service costs, not a cent of the surplus revenue being devoted to a betterment of the water service, but all going into the general fund. This in itself is a glaring injustice, but there is a worse injustice to the people of the South Side, who are compelled by the city's arrangement with the water company supplying that section of the city to pay the city rate to the corporation for a very poor quality of water, the large surplus going, in this case, not into the city treasury, but into the coffers of the company. A summing up, therefore, of the sins of omission and of commission in connection with the water supply of Pittsburgh makes a formidable showing. But coupled with all this and the neglect of the city's interests in the matter of public franchises, Messrs. Guthrie and Crawford point out that the Ligonier stone for the public safety building was made to cost more than marble could have been purchased for; that our streets are paved with poor material at a cost to the city greater than it should have been had the best material in the market been used, and as if this were not enough, there is the admitted fact that the organization in control has a large program of municipal work before the people, which will have to be paid for, if carried out, by the proceeds of a bond issue, no part of it having been provided for in the appropriation ordinance that has just passed councils.

It is altogether a record of extravagance and incompetency that is brought to the attention of the people in a very forcible way—untaxed franchises, a deficient water supply at an excessive cost, with an increased insurance assessment, poor pavements at the cost of the best, burdensome bond issues with more to follow and Ligonier stone at a higher price than marble, and the worst of it is that so little of it can be denied successfully.

The Lessons of the Fires.

Sunday established an unusual record of disastrous fires, the one at Paterson, N. J., being notable for its great property loss and the one at St. Louis for the loss of life. In severe weather the danger from fire is greater than at other seasons, for reasons that are obvious, and the difficulty of combating flames is much increased. Pittsburgh has been particularly fortunate during this severe weather in avoiding heavy fire losses, and in view of the lack of facilities for fighting fire that has been disclosed it is incumbent on owners and occupants of property to exercise extraordinary care. It is no sensationalism that has called attention to the criminal negligence that makes Pittsburgh an easy prey to flames; it is uncompromising conditions that caused the insurance companies to raise rates or withdraw entirely from the field. There is nothing yet but a promise between the city and the perils that threaten because of insufficiency of water, and until the promise is made good the people must pay high rates for insurance and be unceasingly watchful.

Relief for Cuba.

Congressman McCall has proposed for the relief of Cuba that all Cuban products hereafter imported shall be placed in bonded warehouses and the duty on them paid at the rate fixed by law at the time such merchandise is taken from the warehouse. By this means he hopes the practical embargo placed upon Cuban sugar and tobacco by the present tariff rates would be lifted in some measure pending a settlement of the tariff question. Our reciprocal trade relations with Cuba have become involved, and unnecessarily so, in the tariff traditions and prejudices of the majority party in congress. A nation's pledge has been solemnly given to help the Cubans get on their feet. If Congressman McCall's measure is an earnest of final and definite redemption of that pledge it might be promptly approved, pending the larger concessions that we owe to our infant ward in the Antilles. Its adoption would in some measure commit congress to redemption of the pledge. At the same time it must be apparent that congress is able to redeem the pledge in no less time than would be required to pledge itself to the redemption of the pledge.

Heating Street Cars.

Patrons of the street cars in Philadelphia and in Brooklyn have been making strenuous but so far fruitless efforts to impress upon the managers of the street car lines that it is their duty to provide heated cars during the excessive cold weather of the winter season. In Brooklyn three passengers attempted to make a test case of the matter, and after boarding a car which they were told was heated and finding the temperature down to zero, positively refused to pay their fare. The scheme to bring on a suit through ejectment failed to work, for the conductor philosophically told them they might ride as far as they desired free of charge. In Philadelphia, where some of the car rides stretch miles into the country, the deprivation is even more keenly felt, and a fierce crusade for heated cars has been going on all winter without practical betterment in the conditions complained of.

And yet it ought to be understood that nearly if not all the inadequacies of modern street car service may be remedied by the employment of a more liberal policy on the part of the corporations that own and manage them. In the gradual consolidation of street railway franchises the exigencies of stock manipulation have forced down the running expenses to the lowest possible figure consistent with the movement of cars over the tracks. Upon the public has fallen the worst results of this "squeezing" process. It has been scientifically demonstrated that the heating of a street car by the same power that propels it in these days of electricity is simply a matter of a few dollars more in the cost.

Patrons of street cars are forced to stand shivering on street corners waiting for cars that never come because the company, to cheapen expenses, is trying to make one car capable of carrying 50 persons do the work of five, or else for the same reason is using old and worn out engines and ramshackle machinery to meet demands that only the best equipment can provide. This is bad enough, but when in addition the public is forced to take long rides in a car co sold that even the heaviest wraps are of no avail against the biting atmosphere, the results grow too serious and far-reaching to be tolerated simply that the corporation may save the few dollars that would be required in heating the cars. These observations are not without application in Pittsburgh.

The Height of Buildings.

It strikes the ordinary observer as very odd that a city like Chicago should ever have restricted the height of buildings. That town has had an ordinance limiting the depth of the atmosphere which it was legal for tall buildings to penetrate, and the ordinance operated as intended until some one happened to wish to build a skyscraper, and then there was trouble. He usually erected the building and fought it out with the authorities later. Disputes of this nature led to a thorough investigation of the whole subject by councilmanic committees, which listened to advice and opinions and suggestions by wholesale. The result has been that all restrictions have been removed save the requirement that skyscrapers shall be fireproof, or at least what is known as fireproof. Builders can go a mile high if they wish, for all the law has to say to the contrary. It is now only a matter of mechanical skill, expediency and cash. The removal of legal restrictions is expected to result in the expenditure of $2,000,000 in erecting towering office edifices, for ground is becoming very valuable in the commercial portions of Chicago, as it is in Pittsburgh, and it is necessary to invade the air to provide accommodations for business.

Admiral Sampson Retires.

The retirement of Rear Admiral William T. Sampson after 45 years of active service in the United States navy is not without its pathetic features. Though not an old man Admiral Sampson leaves the service broken in health and with the mental unrest that must accompany the fact that his career closes amid a bitter personal and professional controversy in which a majority of his fellow-citizens are arrayed on the side of his opponent in the contention. And yet the naval career of William T. Sampson has been one of great courage and efficiency. He saw active service in the civil war, being on board the Patapsco when she was sunk in Charleston harbor in 1865. Admiral Sampson has always been a strict disciplinarian in his administration of the duties that came with his promotion. Of reserved demeanor and extremely haughty in his conscious dignity of office and power of command, he has never won the personal affection of his associates and subordinates, but he leaves the service with no charge against his patriotism and faithfulness as an officer of the United States navy.

It is not worth while, as a rule, for a public man to bring a suit for libel against an obscure publication. This is well illustrated by the case of the state treasurer-elect against P. Gray Meek. Had Mr. Harris taken no notice of the offending matter published in Mr. Meek's paper, few would have known anything about it and even these would have almost forgotten it ere this. Now the whole state has been apprised of the things published against Mr. Harris and Meek and his paper have had a valuable advertisement at comparatively small cost if some risk. In Democratic circles they will be in great vogue for a long time to come.

In addition to prescribing publicity as a remedy for the evils of the so-called trusts, the industrial commission recommends that stringent laws be enacted by congress and the states against discriminations in rates or prices between customers. A simple solution of the problem involved might be legal compulsion to sell to all customers at the cut price when a cut is made to any customer or in any territory. Cuts of this sort are usually made to kill the trade of a competitive seller, and the remedy suggested might make discrimination so costly as to cure any tendency to use it.

The purity of the ballot box will be guarded against the assault that was threatened by one of the mouthpieces of the city administration. The various voting places would undoubtedly have been carefully watched in any event, but it will now be made worth while for others than those interested in the success of the different tickets to stand guard. Rewards are to be offered for the detection of fraud and the amounts named will make it an object for the watchers to be vigilant and it will be perilous for those disposed to do crooked work to attempt it.

In referring to the approaching election in Pittsburgh and its possible effect on Elkin's chances, Senator Quay shows no noticeable sympathy for the Stone-Flinn ticket, as he terms it, and apparently will lose no sleep if it is beaten.

The Congressional Record was hopelessly "scooped" last week on the sensational happenings in the senate chamber. And yet Senator Hawley wants people to take the publication to find out what is going on.

When young Teddy Roosevelt recovers, as everybody hopes he soon will, he will doubtless return to the good old-fashioned habit of wearing his hat and overcoat while coasting in zero weather.

Those people who think they can frighten the president out of a desire to personally dine with the German prince have evidently forgotten the Booker Washington incident.

The next big financial scheme will doubtless take the form of a merger of all the loose daylight lying around by the electric light syndicates of the country.

The long continued silence of the Hon. Chauncey Depew is explained by the statement that he is learning to play ping pong.

Whatever may be the failings of the Hon. Ben Tillman, he certainly does not suffer from an impediment in his vocabulary.

Calling legislators and state treasurers hard names is not criminal, according to the jury, but it mustn't be done again.

Valentines intended for the executive mansion in Harrisburg will not be expected to carry postscript attachments.

It is now seriously suspected that the groundhog owns a large block of stock in the ice trust.

FIRE DESTROYS PIER OF LEHIGH VALLEY RAILROAD

Several Vessels Moored Near by Are Also Destroyed, the Loss Reaching $250,000.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Fire destroyed Pier G of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company this morning and the loss, including damage to shipping is $250,000. The fire was discovered shortly after 6 o'clock by an employe, who gave the alarm to the department in Jersey City. The heat started the automomastic extinguishing apparatus and the force of 25 men at work on the pier did everything in their power to prevent a spread of the flames. A strong northwest wind made the work difficult and the fire rapidly gained headway. Fire tugs fought valiantly from the river side, but the city fire department was obliged to drive over a mile of railroad tracks to reach the pier, which was doomed before the department reached it.

The steam canal boat Dale, owned by Joseph Pinnario, who lived with his wife in the cabin; the tug Mildred, the Lehigh Valley barges the President and Pittston, and the two-masted schooner Meteor, lying close to the pier, were soon on fire. The Dale was cut loose and towed about 100 feet toward the river, where it sank. Pinnario and his wife escaped over other craft to the wharf. The Meteor is nearly a total loss. The other boats were saved. A big fleet of barges were towed to Washington street undamaged.

Pier G was in the Morris canal basin, which at that point is about 500 feet wide, extending at an acute angle from the wharf on the south side of the basin slightly toward the northeast.

The pier was built at a cost of over $100,000. The loss on the wharf is $10,000. The steam canal boat Dale was valued at $5,000. It is insured for $2,000. The schooner Meteor is said to have been worth $10,000. The losses on other shipping and on the dry dock will not exceed $5,000. The loss to the Lehigh Valley Company is covered by insurance.

The River Front a Terror to Pedestrians.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Feb. 9, 1902.

There is not anything ridiculous in the statement that persons who cross the ocean to or from New York find the most dangerous part of their journey in this city. It is when they cross West street. Most Pittsburghers know that West street is the thoroughfare running parallel with the North river, upon which are the piers of the Atlantic steamship companies. The ferry houses also are on West street. It corresponds with Pittsburgh's Water street. At one time West street was a comparatively narrow thoroughfare. But it was found that trucks, street cars and other vehicles blocked it perpetually, and a wide plaza on the river side was added, the piers being extended far into the river to make room for it. This added portion is called "the farm" or, colloquially, the "horror stretch." It is as much as the stranger's life is worth at times to cross West street on foot on the way to or from a steamship pier. Policemen are there to guide the wayfarer, but even policemen cannot prevent truckmen wheeling their vehicles swiftly from side to side and threatening the safety of everyone in the vicinity. There are "aisles" for the protection of pedestrians in the sea of traffic, but not enough to make them of particular importance. These "isles" are wooden platforms about ten feet square, with hand rails along the side. Their purpose is to afford a temporary refuge for bewildered women and children, to say nothing of men, and they are excellent things so far as they go. They do not go far enough, however, because there are not enough of them. When Prince Henry comes he will be escorted by a committee, a platoon of policemen and other guides, so he is not likely to get into trouble. If he were coming as a private individual he would have to take his chances like everyone else, breathing a fervent prayer of thanksgiving when he found himself safe. That is the way we all do.

Lull in Explosions.

If those repeated dynamite explosions keep up when the prince comes he will learn to dodge like the resident New Yorker. There was no one killed by dynamite today or yesterday in New York. But then there was no work doing today and yesterday was a short day.

Will Rush New Bridge.

The dangerous injury suffered by a young man in the crush at the Brooklyn bridge two or three days ago has done more to stir up public indignation over the disgraceful conditions prevailing at the Manhattan bridge approach than anything which has happened for years. Gustav Lindenthal, bridge commissioner, is on the war path and he does not allow his anger to relax. He will have the new bridge rushed to completion, whatever it may cost the contractors. In the meantime, the efforts that have been made spasmodically for years to relieve the dangerous condition at the entrance to the old bridge will go on, probably with the same futility. It looks as if nothing short of two or three new bridges will ever make living in Brooklyn a safe venture.

Prince Henry to Speak.

Herman Ridder, secretary of the New Yorker Staats-Zeitung, will preside at the big dinner to newspaper men in honor of Prince Henry of Prussia at the Waldorf-Astoria, on February 26. These are the formal toasts, which indicate that Prince Henry himself is to make a speech in English, too:

First—"Welcome to Our Distinguished Guest," by Mr. Herman Ridder; responded to by Prince Henry.

Second—"The Emperor of Germany and the President of the United States," responded to by the Hon. Whitelaw Reid of the New York Tribune.

Third—"The Press—the Tie That Binds," responded to by the Hon. St. Clair McKelway of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

Fourth—"Saxon Blood—What We Owe to Germany in Literature, Art, Science and Music," responded to by the Hon. Charles Emory Smith of the Philadelphia Press.

Fifth—"International Amity," responded to by the Hon. Charles W. Knapp of the St. Louis Republic.

Jerome on the Watch.

That District Attorney Jerome has no particular sympathy with the New York police department was shown today, when he charged that there was a conspiracy among the police to release Bissert, the wardman sent to Sing Sing for bribery. Jerome is an explosive kind of young man, and he is as courageous in acting according to his convictions as was President Roosevelt when, as commissioner of police in this city, he kept the force skipping uneasily night and day. Whether Jerome can prove his assertions, time will show, but certainly he is not timid about saying what he believes, and in every police station in Greater New York the query passes from lip to lip, "What is Mike Blaxen will Jerome do next?" Devery used to refer to him as "little the soldier," but even Devery would have to confess now that the "little soldier" is always on the firing line, ready for business.

Troubles for Low.

Mayor Low has more trouble on his hands. The reception committee, in whose hands are the arrangements for the gala night at the Metropolitan opera house in honor of Prince Henry, yesterday gave 100 tickets for seats to the mayor with a request that he distribute them as he saw fit. As there are nearly a thousand persons who think they are entitled to attend free, it will take all the well-known suave diplomacy of the chief executive to apportion those 100 tickets without being responsible for murder or suicide in some quarters.

Breeches Caused a Scoop.

One of the enterprising sensational evening papers here, after exhausting every aspect of young Theodore Roosevelt's illness that occurred to its artists and editors, was able to give the derisive laugh to its rival in yellowness by printing a picture on its front page of the patient's football breeches. The shrieks of chagrin of the paper that did not get the "old clo'" photograph are still echoing along Park Row.

Two Aspects of Morgan.

In spite of the many big interests that engage the attention of J. Pierpont Morgan in Wall street during the week, he is as calm in appearance and demeanor as he walks to church on Sunday morning as any worshiper there. He is a regular attendant at Dr. Rainsford's church. A vestryman and one of the chief pillars of St. George's, he has always taken the deepest interest in its affairs, and he must be sick indeed when he fails to take part in the morning service. He is affable and talkative at the end of worship, and one would hardly recognize in him the gruff, keen-eyed financier who is held in a respect that is almost terror by thousands of people in the money district. J. Pierpont Morgan at church on Sunday and J. Pierpont Morgan, the banker, in business, are two very different personages.

Fine Hospital Opened.

Mr. Morgan's particular interest just now is the new lying-in hospital he has given to the city. It is an imposing structure, in Second avenue from Sixteenth to Seventeenth streets, and is the best-equipped hospital of its kind in the world. It has just been opened, and surgeons and nurses are delighted with the extent and modern character of its appliances, from beds to baby incubators. One of the new ideas used in connection with the hospital is an ambulance that opens at the side, so that a patient does not be placed on a cot and lifted into the vehicle without unnecessary jarring or disturbance. The building is in the heart of what is sometimes called the hospital district. It is the neighborhood wherein the old families of Gotham used to live half a century ago, and wherein, for that matter, many may be found today. It is quiet, retired, and altogether seems to have been overlooked by the tenement people and factories that are so close to it on the lower East Side.

Arion Ball a Success.

It was past 4 o'clock yesterday morning when most of those in attendance at the Arion ball came forth from Madison Square garden into the cool morning air, after a night of extreme jollity. Among the guests observed about that time were two popular Pittsburgh cafe proprietors, who were fatigued by a horde of night-hawk callers as soon as they appeared, and expended more argument and physical force to release themselves than they usually require in their business in Pittsburgh in a year. The Arion ball seems, of late years, to be approaching the place of honor, as "the" French ball of the winter.

Five-Cent Coffee Coming.

Coffee at 5 cents a pound in New York is predicted. This sounds like good news in a community where the giving away of coffee to persons who cannot afford to buy it is always a prominent charity in cold weather. It is in Wall street, however, that they are talking about 5-cent Rio coffee, and there the prospect is not quite so joyful a one as it may be to the unthinking consumer. In the last six weeks coffee has declined $1.75 per 100 pounds without a single rally. The world's visible supply of coffee is 11,000,000 bags, on top of which a new crop is coming of 11,000,000 bags. All this suggests that there may be a 5-cent price for September delivery.

Evans May Get a License.

It is just possible that the Circle music hall, at Broadway and Seventh street, which has never been opened, may be allowed to do business before very long. This is the place that was to have been managed by Charles H. Evans, formerly one of the firm of Evans & Hoey, comedians, who were very well known in Pittsburgh, when they used to play in "A Parlor Match." Evans was for years manager of the Herald Square theater. Hoey is dead. The Pauliet fathers, whose home is near the music hall, entered a strong protest against a license being granted for the place, and their protests prevailed. The present commissioner of police, Col. Partridge, has been asked to grant a license, and, while he has not said that he will do so, he says that he will inquire closely into the conditions of the Pauliet fathers' objections. The music hall is a handsome place, but the conservative residents of the neighborhood are afraid that, if allowed to run, it might become the center of a new tenderloin.

Chinese Wedding in Church.

A Chinese wedding on the American plan was the social event of South Brooklyn yesterday. This district is famous chiefly as the home of "Terrible Terry" McGovern, but it produces other things beside pugilists. The bride in this wedding was Miss Won Sing Ho, daughter of a prosperous tea merchant in Mott street, Manhattan, while the bridegroom was, and is, Jung Hoy, owner of three laundries in Brooklyn. They were married in the South Reformed Church, of which Jung Hoy has been a member for years. The bride wore picturesque flowing robes of richly embroidered silk, in the style of her ancestors, and as she stood by the side of the man of her choice she looked like a pretty doll. It is seldom, indeed, that a wedding of two Christianized Chinese persons takes place in Greater New York, and the nuptials awakened a great deal of kindly interest.

Smiles Hard to Get.

One of the steady attractions in a popular place of amusement here is "Sober Sue, the girl who never laughed and never will." She has been on exhibition at this same place for three months, and it seems as if the interest in her never flags. The management offers $100 to anyone who can make her laugh, and all kinds of buncombe and quakish tricks have been tried to get the solemn-faced maiden to even crack a smile. But she sits on her platform with an expression of vinegary resignation that nothing can outturn, and it is not hard to believe that only that she never has smiled, but that, indeed, she never will.

Drinks Easy to Find.

Thirsty citizens who are not satisfied with water or "soft drinks" had no trouble today in procuring whatever they desired in the way of intoxicating liquors. Side doors were open, and, if one had enough money to pay for his beer, whisky, or what not, he could get it. The Raines law is in force, and Police Commissioner Partridge allows it to be operated about as it was under Tammany. Dr. Parkhurst wanted the police to pay particular attention to the enforcement of the excise law today, but Commissioner Partridge said, wearily, that he did not intend to make the police force give their attention entirely to the enforcing of one law to please Dr. Parkhurst or any other individual citizen.

ticket mean the withdrawal of Attorney General Elkin from the contest for the nomination for governor?"

"Not necessarily, but it will be a hard jolt to Mr. Elkin, as his friends are counting on a solid delegation to the state convention from Allegheny county in favor of his nomination. The defeat of the so-called Stone-Flinn ticket by a decided majority would encourage the opponents of Mr. Elkin to go after the state delegates from Allegheny county, and they might divide the delegation."

Gave Elkin No Advice.

"Have you advised Mr. Elkin to withdraw from the contest and make the race four years later when a United States senatorship is not at stake?"

"I have not. Nor have I advised him to stay in the race. I have declined to take any part in the matter at all. Later on, when the situation has cleared a little, I may do so, but not in the near future."

Representative Deemer of Williamsport is the latest member from Pennsylvania delegation to align himself against the nomination of Mr. Elkin, and yesterday he told Senator Quay that he believed the nomination of Mr. Elkin would mean the loss of the house of representatives to the Republicans, which would be a national reverse, as it is essential that the Republicans shall retain control of both branches of congress until all the questions growing out of the Spanish war shall be settled satisfactory.

Might Mean Democratic Gains.

Mr. Deemer called the senator's attention to the fact that there were only four Democrats in the Pennsylvania delegation now. With Mr. Elkin as the head of the ticket he believed the Democrats would elect ten representatives from Pennsylvania, the same number they did when Delamater was the head of the Republican ticket.

While he was personally friendly to Mr. Elkin, Mr. Deemer believed that he would not be nominated this year for governor when his nomination would endanger the election of others and, perhaps, endanger the success of the whole party in the contest for control of the house of representatives.

Penrose Is Conservative.

Senator Penrose, who came over from Philadelphia for a final conference with his colleague, was asked tonight if there was any change in the political situation in the state.

"There is not," was his answer. Continuing he said: "We are simply drifting and waiting for the February elections to be held. There are a number of important cities in the state where municipal elections are to be held in about ten days. The people are too much interested in their local fights to pay any attention to the state campaign or the candidates to be nominated.

"With the municipal elections over the Republicans will look over the ground and decide whom they wish nominated for the various offices on the state and local tickets."

"Will Attorney General Elkin be the Republican nominee for governor?"

"That is a question that remains to be decided. At present Mr. Elkin seems to be the only active candidate in the field. Others are mentioned, but do not appear to be actively seeking the nomination."

State Senator W. A. Magee, Jr., of Pittsburgh, arrived here this morning and will remain for several days. He said that his trip was purely to attend to some private business. Mr. Magee was averse to discussing for publication the political situation in Pittsburgh.

SUMMARY TREATMENT FOR SUSPICIOUS PERSONS

Militia and Police Ordered to Club or Shoot Loiterers About the Burned District.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 9.—"Club or shoot, don't make arrests," were the orders Paterson's police received when they went on duty at nightfall. These were Mayor Hinchcliffe's instructions to the regular and extra men.

With the militiamen acting under practically the same orders for summary treatment of offenders, it was meant that speedy punishment should be meted out to any persons caught about the ruins.

Mayor Hinchcliffe made this order in pursuance of the same policy that caused him to close the saloons and welcome the turning out of the militia. He told Chief of Police Grail not to pay any attention to miner disorders or offenders, but to suppress any serious disturbances rigorously. It was for the treatment of men caught stealing, sneaking to loot, or prowling about the ruins that the "club or shoot" order was issued. Mayor Hinchcliffe meant it, Chief of Police Grail meant it, and the policemen were made to understand these facts.

ANARCHISTS BURNED OUT.

Their Headquarters and the Office of Their Organ Is Destroyed.

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—In its work of destruction the fire did not spare the anarchists, for many of them were made homeless, and their favorite headquarters in Market street, the office of La Questione Sociale, were destroyed. It was in the office of this newspaper, the editor of which was Pedro Gatoni, the anarchists were wont to assemble and discuss their plans.

This place was known to anarchists all over the world. Bresci, the murderer of King Humbert, was well known there, and it has been said the assassination plot was hatched in the place.

Small Blaze on Fifth Avenue.

A slight fire in the cellar of the American Tea Company's store at No. 1206 Fifth avenue last night caused an alarm to be sent in from box 81. The fire was caused by an overheated furnace.

PATERSON NEEDS NO OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE

Persons Who Lost Their Homes Are Able to Take Care of Themselves.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 9.—Three relief meetings were held during the afternoon, the principal one of which was attended by Gov. Franklin Murphy, Mayor John Hinchliffe, Recorder George B. Senior, who under the city's charter is fire marshal. In a few moments $800 was handed to the mayor for immediate use, but the chief magistrate said that while the city had suffered a terrible loss he was in a position to say that there was very little distress. The business section of the city had been practically wiped out, but the residence portion which suffered was that in which well-to-do citizens lived.

The armory of the Fifth regiment was made headquarters for the relief of any persons desirous of assistance, but up to a late hour no applicants for help visited the building. Mayor George P. Olcott, who was in charge, said he did not expect to find more than a score of people who needed assistance.

Chief of Police Fred G. Grail and Sheriff John W. Sturr established temporary offices in the city treasurer's office and the sheriff swore in 50 special deputies who were immediately sent to the burned districts for the protection of life and property.

Gov. Murphy and Mayor Hinchliffe said they were extremely grateful for the assistance given by the fire departments in the nearby cities, which responded promptly to the calls for aid.

"I am deeply grateful to the men who so promptly came to our assistance," said the mayor, "and were it not for their quick arrival and intelligent hitrate work I am afraid that the city of Paterson would by this time have been a desolate, black spot. Too much credit cannot be given by our citizens to the fire fighters, and the thanks of the community, which has had such a severe visitation, while to my mind inadequate, are the only offerings we can make to those who helped us in our terrible hour of need."

Temporary relief quarters were established early in the day at St. Paul's church, where Dr. Hamilton presided at a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society, but it was stated that there were only a few applicants. The wants of these were quickly attended to.

ROBBERS' HEAVY BOOTY.

Safe Blowers Secure $5,000 in Gold and a $5,000 Georgia State Bond.

ACWORTH, GA., Feb. 9.—Safe blowers forced the vaults of the Lemon Banking Company here early this morning, securing $5,000 in gold, a $5,000 Georgia state bond and a large amount of stock certificates. Drawers $45,000 and $50,000 in notes, stock certificates and bonds were hopelessly destroyed.

A box filled with $20 gold pieces escaped the notice of the robbers. The robbers had to blow through four partitions to reach the money.

THE SUNDAY GAZETTE.

The Paper Continues to Improve With Rapid Strides Until It Is the Acme of Journalism.

The twentieth century newspaper, it has been said, will eventually take the place of the modern magazine. Whether or not this is true, it can be said with all truth that splendid Sunday newspaper is a magazine of the best thought the world produces.

Yesterday's Sunday Gazette was just such a paper. It was a magazine in which both the latest news and news of the entire world was served in unison with the great events that are, and that will be, of interest the world over.

The Gazette can now afford to say that it has a Sunday paper equal in many respects to the modern magazine. The news feature of both the local field and the entire world were "covered" with an accuracy that will bear both investigation and comparison with any newspaper in the land of American journalism.

Then, too, its Sunday paper proper has special "interest" of interest from its numerous correspondents in the great capitals of the world, notably Curtis Brown's letter of London current affairs, J. B. Connelly's letter from Paris and others from equally interesting points.

The Pope's Successor.

Herbert Paul's London correspondence relative to the Pope next should not be of interest. A special article by J. Martin Miller told of the manner in which the successor to Leo XIII. will be chosen. This article was beautifully illustrated. Of course, Col. A. K. McClure, Alfred Henry Lewis, Will Lexington Comfort and other writers of note contributed to the great Sunday features.

The "Wolfville Stories" and "Random Recollections of Half a Century" are always interesting bits of reading. Let the reader turn the leaves of the 16-cent magazine and see whether he will find articles of such interest written by men as well known to the literary world as these.

The society world, the dramatic world and every little world that interests the minds of all classes was covered by the writers for The Sunday Gazette.

Of Interest to Women.

Augusta Prudhol has always something to say that will be of interest to women, and she says this in The Sunday Gazette. Mary Lowe Dickinson, Kate Tupper Marr and other writers of this popular field are among the special contributors secured by The Gazette for its women readers.

The sporting, real estate and military columns of The Gazette are features written accurately and with a view of giving what is the very latest news.

The Sunday magazine was beautifully illustrated. Compare yesterday's features of The Gazette with those of any other Sunday paper. It will bear honest comparison.

The Gazette leaves nothing undone, spares neither time nor money to secure the very best the world produces for its readers. Next Sunday's paper will be equally as interesting as yesterday's.

SEVERAL DEATHS MAY RESULT FROM THE FIRE

Aged Woman Dies from Excitement. Driver of an Engine Fatally Hurt.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.]

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 9.—Up to 11 o'clock tonight no serious accident was reported at police headquarters. Mayor Hinchcliffe, while watching the firemen at work during the afternoon, received a slight burn on the cheek from a flying spark. Several firemen were overcome, but none of them was incapacitated for more than a few minutes.

One death was reported as a possible outcome of the conflagration, a Mrs. Brown who, it was said, was over 80 years old and who was removed from her residence, 18 Broadway, just two doors from where the fire started in the car sheds. She was taken to the residence of a friend hearby shortly after midnight and died about an hour later. It was said that her death was hastened by the excitement consequent on her hasty removal to a place of safety.

Scores of persons were hurt and burned, but the list of life is not thought to be great. There are many persons supposed to be missing, but in the excitement and fright most of these are supposed to be separated from their families and friends. Until order is brought out of the chaos which existed here today nothing definite can be known.

Reuben Ikirth, while serving coffee to the exhausted firemen, was hit on the head by a falling beam and it is doubtful if he lives. He was carried away by the firemen as they made their retreat from the doomed school house.

George Fitzmaurice, a fireman who had been acting as driver for Fire Chief Stagg, is also dying. He was driving an engine from Passaic when the horses bolted and before Fitzmaurice could get them under control they brought the apparatus against an electric pole and Fitzmaurice, who had not waited to jump himself in, was hurled out upon his head. There is no chance of his living.

MAYOR AND SHERIFF ISSUE PROCLAMATION

All Persons Are Warned to Remain Away from Burned District After Nightfall.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 9.—To check disorder and prevent crime Mayor Hinchcliffe and Sheriff Sturr tonight issued the following proclamations:

Whereas, By reason of the recent fire it is necessary that prompt action be taken by the city and county authorities to protect the lives and property of our citizens by the strict enforcement of the ordinances of the city and the laws of the state of New Jersey.

Therefore, we, John Hinchcliffe, mayor of the city of Paterson, and John V. Sturr, sheriff of the county of Passaic, do hereby proclaim that all persons shall refrain from trespassing or being upon the public streets of the city of Paterson, with the limits of the burned district, after the hour of 7 o'clock p. m., and any person refusing or neglecting to obey this proclamation shall be subject to arrest and punishment.

Householders and property owners within the said district will be allowed to pass upon giving satisfactory reasons and proofs to the officer or officers who may be assigned to the said district to enforce this proclamation.

Necessary instructions and authority have been given to the police officers, constables, deputy sheriffs and others to enforce the proclamation.

BODY FOUND IN THE RUINS.

George White Was Burned to Death in His House Yesterday Morning.

The body of George White was found yesterday morning in the ruins of his house, No. 6 Mallards court, Allentown. He had been burned to death. The house caught fire and firemen spent an hour trying to put out the flames, not knowing that White was in the building. He was married and lived with his father, but the rest of the family had gone to Chambersburg. White's body was found in a sitting position on the floor, leaning against the wall.

Mallards court opens off Allen avenue, near Washington avenue, and consists of two rows of frame houses of three houses each. The fire broke out at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, but no alarm was given until 7:45, when the flames from No. 4 broke through the wall of the house occupied by Valentine Delatia. The loss was about $1,500. Richard Mallard owns the houses.

Box 262 was pulled for a fire in the basement of the residence of Dr. H. H. Perley at No. 2001 Fifth avenue, caused by an over-heated furnace. The damage done amounted to $25.

INCREASE IN SALARY WILL NOT BE ASKED

Letter Carriers Are Obeying President Roosevelt's Recent Order.

CONVENTION MEETS HERE

Some 40 Delegates of the State Association Hold Their Annual Session in the St. Charles Hotel on Washington's Birthday.

The Pennsylvania State Association of Letter Carriers will hold its annual meeting in Pittsburgh on Washington's birthday. In accordance with President Roosevelt's recent order prohibiting government employes from lobbying for an increase in salary the convention will not adopt resolutions urging congressmen to vote for the bill pending in congress raising the salaries of letter carriers.

Privately the mail carriers think they ought to get more money for their work, but as an organization they will not ask for it, and as individuals they will be chary about lobbying for it.

The convention will be held at the St. Charles hotel, and in the evening the delegates and the invited guests, consisting of the more prominent postmasters in the state and several congressmen, will be banqueted.

Officers Will Be Elected.

The day will be devoted to the reading of papers, the discussion of matters of interest to letter carriers, the election of officers of the state association and of a state delegate to the convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers, to be held in Denver, Col., beginning the first Monday in September, Labor day.

J. H. W. Anderson, secretary of the Pittsburgh branch No. 84, N. A. L. C., said yesterday that there are about 90 free delivery offices in the state. Of this number 78 are organized and about 40 delegates are expected to attend the convention.

Every organized free delivery office is allowed one delegate, whatever the number of members, and one delegate for the first 20 members or major fraction thereof, but no office is entitled to more than two delegates, so that Philadelphia, with its more than 200 carriers, will not have preponderance in the convention over Scranton or Pittsburgh or Allegheny.

All Officers Not Members.

It is not obligatory on the branches to belong to the state association, and that is why no more than 40 delegates will attend the convention.

Mr. Anderson was asked if the state association at its convention would take action toward promoting the passage of the bill now before congress.

"No," he answered. "You must remember that President Roosevelt has issued an order prohibiting such action, and we will most certainly obey it. We think, of course, that we are entitled to more pay, and the gist of the bill before congress was indorsed by the Chattanooga convention last year, before the president gave out his order.

"It was introduced in the house on December 13 by Representative William A. Smith of Grand Rapids, Mich. It provides that, in cities of more than 75,000 inhabitants, carriers shall be paid $900 for the first year, $800 for the second, $1,000 for the third and $1,200 for the fourth and for each year thereafter. The maximum now is $1,000.

List of Local Officers.

In cities of less than 75,000 population the pay shall be $800 for the first year, $800 for the second year and $1,000 for the third year and thereafter, the mixumum now being $900."

The president of the national association is James C. Keller of Cleveland. The following are the officers of the Pittsburgh branch: President, Martin Toole; vice president, M. F. Cassidy; secretary, J. H. W. Anderson; financial secretary, David Bissett; treasurer, J. W. Elder; collector of the Mutual Benefit association, P. H. Duffy; sergeant-at-arms, D. Hutton; trustees, John W. Anderson, B. A. Gross and Frank Buzzard.

ZOO AND PARKS WERE DESERTED YESTERDAY

Gossip of the Zoo Inmates and Their Family Quarrels—Show in Conservatories.

Few people braved the weather yesterday to visit the parks. The day was very cold and the wind swept over the hills and through the hollows, making the snow fly in flurries. A solitary sleigh, with its half frozen occupants, was seen on the driveway in Highland park, city bound. At the zoo the Polar bears seemed very comfortable as they rolled on the ice floor of their cage, and now and then would take a plunge into their icy bath. As they shook the water from their fur covered bodies a look of contentment seemed to pass over their shaggy features, and if they could have spoken they would no doubt have made a request for about 30 degrees more cold.

Carrie Nation and Bob Fitzsimmons, the two large African baboons, had a scrap on Saturday afternoon, and as a result Bob is nursing a disfigured eye. It was the old story of the apple and the first woman. Bob was presented with an apple and refused the coaxings of Carrie to divide. Carrie did not have a hatchet, but she went at Bob like a whirlwind for her share of the apple. Bob was game, but she forced him into a corner and uppercut him above the left eye. Bob dropped the apple and Carrie went to her own corner, where she complacently munched it. Bob will divide the next apple with her.

Jack, the little black-faced Capuchin monkey which was given to the zoo by W. C. Dobbs of No. 2131 Center avenue, is becoming used to his new home. Yesterday Mr. Dobbs called at the zoo and presented his former pet with a small bottle of wine. Jack pulled the cork, and, uptilting the bottle, drained its contents. For a while after he was received at the zoo the little fellow passed hours in crying for his former friends.

The three young lions will be taken from their dam about April 1. They are growing very large and will not need her care much longer. The young kangaroo is still in the pouch and it will not be on exhibition for several weeks.

There was only a fair attendance at the free organ recital yesterday, which was given by W. K. Steiner of Pittsburgh. At the conservatory there is a good display of flowers, some of those now in bloom being lilies of the valley, fresaia, cheiille, yellow baby primroses, ardisias, amaryllis and cineraries. New beds are being prepared in the tropical plant houses and the walls covered with moss.

FAMOUS COACHES SECURED FOR GOLF

GAME NOT FORGOTTEN, THOUGH GROUNDS ARE UNDER SNOW.

Next Season Promises to Be the Speediest in the History of Western Pennsylvania—Westmoreland Country Club Active.

Even though the snows of winter lie deep upon the courses, the game of golf is far from being forgotten by the countless local enthusiasts, though more ardor than belongs to the average player is required to face weather quite so cold as at present. Some of the coldest spots about the city can be found on the golf courses when the wind is cutting about the unprotected sweeps of the links which offer acres of bare sward, without a vestige of tree or building.

TOM SMITH,
The Professional Golf Coach, Secured by Westmoreland From the Royal Montreal Club of Canada.

Thought there are no scores of sweepstages or match contests to remind the public of the ancient and royal game, steady preparation is going on for the opening in the spring of what promises to be the busiest season ever known to Western Pennsylvania.

Fast Playing Expected.

The procuring of crack professional coaches by the different clubs tells of the expectation of the speediest kind of play and the effort which will be made to develop the young players of the vicinity, upon which further growth of strength among the different organizations must depend.

Three of the clubs belonging to the Western Pennsylvania association have recently secured new coaches. The Westmoreland Country club, which hopes to show more improvement over last season than any of the other clubs—largely because there is so much room for it—has signed a strong player and good all-round man in Tom Smith, a brother of Arthur Smith, the open champion of Western Pennsylvania, who for several seasons past was with the Edgewood Golf club, but left last fall to begin an engagement with one of the crack clubs of Washington, D. C.

Smith a Crack Coach.

Tom Smith, who was secured through his brother, bears an excellent reputation in Canada, where for years he has been the coach of the crack Royal Montreal Golf club of Montreal. He is not only a strong player but a good groundskeeper, which quality is most needed by the Westmoreland club, on account of the great room for improvement offered by its new course at Logans Ferry.

Tom Smith learned the game at Great Yarmouth, Eng., under the noted professionals, Tom and George Honie. His first position was with the Royal Bracaster club of Northwest Norfolk, the great sea side course which Smith classes "the finest court to be found in England for first class golf."

He then came to the Royal Montreal club, with which he has been for eight years. In 1900 Smith and Cummings defeated Harry Vardon by one on the Dixie golf links. Smith has developed many strong players while with the Royal Montreals. Miss Young, the woman champion of Canada, being a pupil of his. He reports to Westmoreland in April.

Famous Coach Secured.

The Allegheny Country club, which will open this year with one of the strongest golf courses in the country, back of Sewickley, has secured a professional worthy of the course in H. Dinglewalt, formerly with the famous Essex County club of Manchester, Mass. He is well known in the east as a strong player and is as well a good instructor.

The Edgewood Golf club searched long for a professional to fill the place of Arthur Smith, and has secured a good man in Nicol Thompson, formerly of the Hamilton Golf club of Toronto, Canada. This is Smith's old home, and Thompson learned all he knows of the professional's duties from Smith, whose recommendation was all the Edgewood club required.

Thompson, who was born in Scotland, the home of the golf player, is 22 years of age and spent four years in the same golf club repair shop with Smith. Arthur Smith recommends him as a strong player and conscientious instructor. He will report in April, and will spend the season in Edgewood, returning in the winter to an Alabama club, where he fills the winter season.

AGED MAN'S LONELY DEATH.

Thomas Ford, 80 Years Old, Died from Exposure and Neglect.

Alone and neglected, Thomas Ford, aged 80 years, died in a shanty at Muckle Rat, a mining camp in Wilkins township. He was found dead on Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock by a neighbor, who reported the case yesterday to the Allegheny county morgue. Ford was formerly a coal miner. He has a wife, Mary Ford, living at No. 138 Forty-fourth street, Pittsburgh. Mrs. Ford said yesterday that she had not been living with her husband recently and that she had not seen him for over a year.

Peter Boyle, the neighbor who found the aged man, said that Ford had not been working for some time and that he lived alone. Ford had complained of rheumatism, but refused to allow a physician to be sent for. The witnesses stated that they believed Ford's death had resulted from exposure and neglect.

POSTOFFICE SITE SELECTED.

Steubenville Councils Serve Notice to Vacate and May Use Force.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—A contest of some weeks over the location of the postoffice was settled today when the Edward Nicholson building was selected. The postoffice has been in the city building, but as too many repairs were wanted by Uncle Sam, council raised the rent and it was decided to move.

Council has served notice on the postoffice to vacate and if it does not get out before the required time it will be ejected and United States marshals may be required to stop the ejectment.

HOUSEKEEPER'S NOTEBOOK.

Plain muils with flower borders in colors are selling for 15 cents a yard.

Mercerized lawns are among the attractive materials in white goods this year. They sell at varying prices, from 28 cents to 45 cents. They are to be found with small woven designs, some in dots and others in flower patterns.

Foulard silks in flower designs are most attractive. There are rosebuds with a touch of green upon white, but the best perhaps are the rose designs with a little green foliage upon black. These foulards come at $2 a yard.

Etamine waist patterns in solid colors with bands of embroidery in attractive designs combining the ever attractive bow knots are selling for $2 a pattern.

In buying hosiery if one is ever obliged to get large sizes for women, the less expensive domestic hosiery will often answer the purpose better than the imported. It is more elastic and stretches to fit a large foot.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL.

Found a tattered little lad in a flower shop the other day, pricing violets. Attracted by the wistful eyes which shone from a very grimy face and by a novelty of such a violet purchaser, the curious pencil took note of what happened and afterwards followed the boy and violets to their final destination. The violets, two bunches of the purple winged single blossoms, which are most familiar to American eyes, were wrapped in tissue paper and held carefully against his breast as he walked, to protect them from possible disaster. He got on an Oakland car and alighting, hurried down on the new built streets in the vicinity of the park to a little cheap house, whose preposterous porch and tiny bay window told of a desire to be "stylish" with larger and more expensive neighbors. Into the hallway and even further the boy and his follower went and there, on a white draped couch, was found a pathetic enough figure. Shrunken and unattractive in life, the poor face had gained a dignity in death which made one involuntarily think of the bestowal of a better life. She had been a Sunday school teacher, beginning the weary toil of the school room ere her girlhood had well bloomed, to support an old mother and a crippled brother. The boy died two years ago and she lately lived with her mother in a tiny house erected out of the meager saving from a not too generous monthly wage. She was one of the repressed, apparently unsympathetic natures which few people learn to know and love and only in the school room, when some forlorn child drew forth from her heart a gleam of the latent maternity whose rich fulfillment had been denied her did she become lovable. There were few flowers in the room—a handful of white roses which her mother had laid in her hands, a sheaf of wheat sent by the wife of her pastor and a few scattered carnations included by the undertaker in his laying out—and the ragged boy's violets. He stood beside her for a moment, looking at the still face and then laid his flowers down on her pillow. "Did you love her," I asked, as he turned away with that stolid look which in a boy betokens the deepest moved heart. "She was me teacher an' she always helped me when no one else would," he said, and fled from further questioning. "Always helped him!" Ah, well, poor hands, you held some strand of the true woman's cable of pure human service, and who knows what untouched mines of good you have uncovered in this little heart!

Lenten Service—

is to be observed by most of the girls this year, to a further degree than ever before. Not on merely church service, but the hospital visiting, the charitable sewing, the generous giving which can carry some of the sunshine inherent to an American daughter into lives less happily placed.

Lilies and Tulip Buds—

Should be set now for Easter blooming. A deep bowl or jardinere, a handful of pebbles and some clear water are all they need to be ready for the sunny window where the influence of spring may draw forth their beauteous blooms for Easter day.

CURRENT MODES.

I was told by a fashionable caterer here that something new in serving ice cream was being introduced. "A number of women who enjoy novelty," he said, "are asking me to serve the ices in individual boxes instead of shapes. The boxes may be alike for the entire party or each may be individual, all conforming to a general plan. Sometimes I am asked to have the boxes in the shape of flowers. Again, they may take the form of pink hearts, if the affair has a foundation of sentiment; or a playing card for a whist club celebration. Plaid boxes are sold for golf breakfasts. Fluffy things are always popular for purely feminine functions, and for these I am suggesting ice cream boxes of crepe paper. They may be of pale pink, blue or violet, trimmed with artificial flowers, or varicolored tissue may be used and the case surmounted by an artificial butterfly. Japanese hues are pretty with a Jap doll attached to the box lid to serve as a handle. The ladies take these boxes away as souvenirs."

"But aren't the little cases pretty well spoiled by the cream?"

"They aren't hurt at all, the cream being arranged on paraffine paper in such a way that it never comes in contact with the box."

GRACEFUL HOUSE GOWN.
Chalk lends itself naturally to the soft folds which are best suited for informal wear. The pretty gown shown is of bellestripe chalk, with garniture of écru lace and violet velvet ribbon.

Baseball Men to Confer on Playing Rules

BASEBALL MEN WILL CONFER ON PLAYING RULES

Meeting Is Scheduled to Take Place in Buffalo This Afternoon.

STEPS TOWARD PEACE

American League May Adopt National Playing Rules, and Ban Johnson and A. G. Spalding May Attend the Meeting.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Representatives of the National and American baseball leagues and the National Association of Professional Baseball clubs are scheduled to meet at the Hotel Iroquois, Buffalo, tomorrow afternoon to revise the playing rules of the game for the coming season. There is a rumor current here tonight that the meeting will not be held, but it is stated on reliable authority there is no foundation for it and the conference will be held as per schedule.

Besides the three men appointed to represent the National league by A. G. Spalding, Messrs. Hanlon, Reach and Hart, the following other representatives will also be present at the discussion: Messrs. Comiskey, Sexton, Farrell, McGraw, Mack and Murnane. It is expected also that the Brush-Freedman faction will send a representative to the conference.

The Pittsburgh team has no representative on the rules committee board. The rules committee was appointed by President Nick Young, and as the courts have as yet made no ruling on the case of A. G. Spalding and the National league presidency, the Spalding faction claims the meeting will be entirely legal.

Pittsburghers are very much interested in the meeting which is scheduled to be held in Buffalo this afternoon. Action is to be taken on the rules enforced last season by the National league, but not enforced by other leagues.

The foul strike rule, which was so condemned at the opening of last year by baseball men generally, eventually developed into one of the best rules ever adopted for the government of the game. The object of its adoption was to do away with an ugly feature which certain National league batters were becoming very proficient in, that of working pitchers for bases on balls by fouling off all good balls delivered.

This feature became very tiresome to spectators because it delayed the game materially. The rule proved to accomplish just what it was intended to do, and while it was at first condemned, later in the season it became popular with almost every player, and now there is not a league or player that does not want it adopted for the coming season. President Barney Dreyfuss and Manager Fred Clarke of the Pittsburgh team are heartily in favor of the rule and both are anxious to see it adopted by the national league this year.

Another rule introduced last year was the one which kept the catcher up behind the bat during the entire game. This was also intended to shorten contests and it served its purpose well.

It is believed by many Pittsburgh fans if this meeting is held in Buffalo this afternoon it will be the first step toward peace between the National and American baseball leagues. The meeting was arranged by Mr. Spalding in a conference with Ban Johnson of the American league in Chicago before the former departed for California to spend the winter.

It is expected that both Ban Johnson and A. G. Spalding will be present at the meeting this afternoon. It is not thought any radical changes will be made in the rules for the coming season and that they will be allowed to stand as they were at the close of last season. The American league may, however, adopt the National rules.

MAY PLAY PRINCETON.

Dr. Brooks of Harvard Anxious for Tigers to Supplant Yale in Athletics.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Feb. 9.—Athletic relations between Harvard and Yale have reached a critical stage. Undergraduates of both universities are strongly in favor of a continuance in all branches of organized sport, but at Harvard certainly the undergraduates do not determine who shall be Harvard's immediate rivals in athletic competition.

Prof. Hollis is silent, and he is now the official head of Harvard's athletic organization. But Dr. Brooks' word still influences the conduct of Harvard's athletic affairs, and when Dr. Brooks takes occasion to say, as he did yesterday, that he would be in favor of severing athletic relations with Yale unless present circumstances are substantially changed, his words can be taken as accurately indicating Harvard's official attitude.

Dr. Brooks says: "I am in favor of a continuance of athletic relations with Yale provided that a uniform set of eligibility rules can be agreed upon; that there shall be a permanent body in authority at both universities to conduct correspondence."

He stated that he would like to see Harvard play football with Princeton and that the Tigers might supplant Yale.

M'ALEER IS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Feels Certain St. Louis' American League Team Will Win Championship.

YOUNGSTOWN, O. Feb. 9.—(Special.)—Manager "Jimmy" McAleer of the St. Louis American League team, is enthusiastic over the prospects of St. Louis. "We will be ready when the bell taps," said McAleer, "and I feel certain that our team will be in the race at every stage. The one thing that makes me so confident of success is the enthusiasm of the boys.

"Wallace warms up when the subject is discussed and Heidrick goes off the handle. I have met him several times this winter, and all that I have to do to get into hot water is to suggest that we will be lucky if we finish as good as fifth.

"Heidrick wanted to wager a big wad that our team would beat any that I could name and Wallace offered to take half the bet. I regard Padden as the best catcher in the American or National leagues."

McAleer announced that if the grounds at St. Louis were in shape by March the team would go to its training there. He has about given up the proposed training trip to New Orleans.

PEDS START ON SIX-DAY RACE

PITTSBURGH AND ALLEGHENY ARE REPRESENTED BY TEAMS.

Old Soldier Barnes and Lou Taylor and Charlie Trainer Are the Local Men in the Contest—Bike Race Rules to Govern.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Forty-three teams, made up of men of almost every nationality, started in the six-day "go as you please" team race in Madison Square garden at 12:05 o'clock this morning. The rules that governed the recent six-day bicycle race are in force in this race. No man is allowed to remain on the track more than 12 out of 24 hours. The winners of places will receive $5,000 which is to be awarded in prizes.

Among the new men are Jay Eaton, the cyclist; "Andy" Cuneo, the Italian prize fighter; "Jack" Kerns, also a pugilist; the Hurst brothers, crack sprinters and middle-distance men; John Lawson, the cyclist, now a boxing instructor.

The race will be a continuous one of 102 hours. The finish will be at 10:05 p. m., the night of February 15. The prizes will go as follows: First, $1,500; second, $1,000; third, $750; fourth, $500; fifth, $350; sixth, $250; seventh, $200; eighth, $175; ninth, $150, and tenth, $125. Among the starters were Gilbert Barnes of Pittsburgh, a member of the G. A. R. team, and Lou Taylor and Charles Trainer of Allegheny.

O'CONNOR'S REAL WORTH.

Pittsburgh's Catcher, It Is Claimed, Is One of the Brainiest Men in Baseball.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 9.—Jack O'Connor's services to the Pittsburg club are not shown by the statistics of the season, and President Dreyfuss and Manager Clarke both realize this, says an exchange. His selection by Clarke to take charge of the Pirates during the former's Kansas visit is more than a compliment.

Jack is a natural leader, and, while he has never captained or managed a National league club, it was for no lack of ability. For years he was Tebeau's lieutenant and on Pat's advice several princely offers for his release were turned down by the Cleveland club. Jack made no kicks and gave Robisons and Tebeau loyal service up to the day that his release was sold to Pittsburgh.

When Bill Joyce was manager of the New York club, he made several attempts to buy O'Connor. "I needed a catcher and some one to help me get work out of the team," said Bill, "and O'Connor would have filled the bill better than any man in the business. A manager who's playing the infield or outfield can do little with his batteries beyond giving them advice. He can't sign for the kind of balls that should be pitched, and about all he can do is to well encouragement to the pitcher.

"With O'Connor behind the bat, there is no trouble for the manager or any one else, if the pitcher will follow the instructions that are wig-wagged to him. Freedman was willing to pay good money for him, but the Robisons would not hear of it. I put in a whole winter trying to get Pat Tebeau into the deal, and I was just as far from it in the spring as I was when I began."

"Barney Dreyfuss beat me to O'Connor by two days last summer," said McAleer. "When I agreed to take the management of the St. Louis team, in 1902, I made up my mind to get rowdy, and foolishly put off communicating with him in the expectation of meeting him. I had no idea that Dreyfuss was alive to the situation, and I was much irked and chagrined to learn that all the Pirates had placed themselves under contract for another season. I played with O'Connor and know what he is worth to a team. No one knows the game better and he is always working some scheme. He did not always get or care for the credit, but the ball players knew what was going on, and all of us used to consider Jack one of the brainiest men in the profession."

M'GOVERN'S QUIET SUNDAY.

No Training Was Done and Terry and Harris Attended Church During the Morning.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 9.—The Sabbath day was observed today in a very appropriate style at Camp McGovern. Terry attended church in the morning with Manager Harris and Mr. Dacey of Norwood Inn. The remainder of the morning was spent in visiting the suburbs around the inn and the afternoon in talking with his friends, and meeting the multitude of people that came out to visit.

Shortly after dinner a large party of sporting men came out to the quarters and while some were talking with Terry, others were in the sitting room of the Norwood Inn hotel, where Joe Humphries was relating some of his experiences and stories that he had heard in connection with the prize ring.

He has developed that feature that makes a man take well, no matter in what company he is, the faculty of telling a good story and telling it well. In short, he is a monologue artist of no mean ability.

Joe is very enthusiastic over the new boxing association of America, and says it will prove to be the greatest boost for the game that ever took place in this country.

BOY BILLIARD EXPERT.

Willie Hoppe, 13-Year-Old Prodigy, Will Give Exhibitions.

With the skill of Slossom, the deftness of Schaefer, and the ease and grace of the late Ives, little Willie Hoppe can manipulate the ivory globes on a billiard table for runs which many an old-time expert cannot duplicate.

The lad is only 13 years of age, but in his several years of acquaintance with the fascinating game, he has obtained a mastery over the spheres which borders on the magical. Manager Davis has secured Willie Hoppe for the Great Northern Billiard hall for three exhibitions, the first on Tuesday, February 25, at 8 o'clock, and two exhibitions on Wednesday, February 26, at 3 and 8 o'clock.

His record run is 310, and then he only stopped because he tired.

Gill of the W. and J. varsity field and track team has issued a second call for candidates for the relay team which will be taken into Philadelphia to compete in the national intercollegiate field and track meet. WADDELL IS A WONDER IN THE BASEBALL WORLD

More Interesting Stories Told of Him Than of Anson or King Kelly.

SIGNS MANY CONTRACTS

Rube Will Draw His Pay on the Fifteenth of Each Month and Two Days Later Will Be Trying to Borrow—His Fear of the Police.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

DETROIT, MICH., Feb. 9.—No player in the baseball business since the days of A. C. Anson and "King" Kelly has had the number of stories told about him than one George Edgar, more familiarly known as Rube Waddell. Many of the stories printed about Anson and Kelly were, to say the least, somewhat fishy, but the larger part of the Waddell stories are absolute facts.

Waddell will sign with any one club at any time to get a piece of advance money, and even when he signs probably has no intention of playing ball with that team. Rube will draw his pay on the 15th of the month and by the 17th will be broke and looking for someone to borrow from, and if he cannot raise the coin that way, will take the first chance of signing a contract for the advance money.

Wanted Fine Remitted.

After Waddell had jumped the Detroit team in May, 1898, he went to Chatham, where, with the independent team, he was the whole works for a short time. Then, getting tired of the little town, he came back to the ball grounds one afternoon while a game was going on. He sought out George "Stallings and the two went out in the shade under the trees in left field. Waddell was very sore because he had been fined for jumping the team, and positively refused to play unless the fine was removed.

The fine had been imposed by Van Derbeck and Stallings could not remit it, but finally, after talking for an hour and a half, the Rube consented to show up for practice, and Stallings said he would see if he could not secure the removal of the fine.

Everything seemed serene to Stallings, but just as he was leaving Waddell the Rube said: "Well, how, George, I want some money." Stallings told him he could not give him any money until he had earned it and back goes the Rube into the sulks, stating that unless he was given $25 he would not show up. Stallings had to do the jolly all over again and finally compromised with Waddell by loaning him $10 out of his pocket, taking a receipt from Rube as well as an I. O. U. for the amount.

Rube Afraid of Police.

Next morning, bright and early, Stallings was on the grounds, looking for the big southpaw, but Rube never made his appearance. He had gently slid the town, and the next heard of him he was in Pittsburgh playing with amateur teams. Stallings wrote asking for his $25, but never heard from it, and finally asked a police officer in Pittsburgh to speak to Rube about it, and by the next fall Stallings got his $10. Rube has a holy horror of the police, and Stallings knew it.

At the present time Rube is under contract to no less than three teams, Chicago National, San Francisco and Los Angeles. How he succeeds in "conning" all the managers in the way he does is one of the wonders of the baseball world.

MEETING OF STEWARDS.

Will Wipe Out All Existing Friction in Western Turf Circles.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, ILL., Feb. 9.—Stewards of the Western Jockey club will hold a special meeting here tomorrow, and are expected to take action that will wipe out the last bit of friction now existing in western turf circles. The special meeting was called to consider the application of the Highland Park Jockey club of Detroit, for spring racing dates. It is believed that Highland Park will be granted a license and allotted dates.

The meeting will be an aftermath of the regular session of the stewards, held one week ago. At that time Dr. Douglas Park Racing association of Louisville, which is headed by the Farmer-Hendrics combination, was refused permission to race. An application from Highland Park, also controlled by Farmer and Hendrie, was passed over to the March meeting, with an application from the Detroit Driving club, of which Mr. Campau is the head.

The refusal to give dates to Douglass Park, brought warlike statements from Mr. Parmer, but later he conferred with Judge Perkins of Latonia, on the Western Jockey club stewards, and expressed his willingness to forget the Douglass Park affair if the Jockey club would grant dates for Highland Park. For which he had previously announced stakes. An arrangement was, in the meantime, effected with Mr. Campau, whereby he agreed not to push his request for dates with a rival track in Detroit.

No business except a consideration of the Highland Park application will come before the meeting tomorrow morning.

FAT NERVES.

A whirl of excitement was recently caused among scientists by the discovery of "how nerves act".

Healthy nerves are fat nerves. It is fat in the core of a nerve that by hardening and softening creates nerve action.

Maybe this explains why Scott's Emulsion has always been such a remarkable remedy for nervousness.

Scott's Emulsion makes fat nerves. It feeds them with fat. Good for all forms of nervousness and for neuralgia.

AMATEUR SKATING RACES AT DUQUESNE GARDEN TONIGHT.

Several Heats Will Be Required to Determine Winners of Events for Boys Under Sixteen Years Owing to Large Number of Contestants.

The skating races for the amateur championships of western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio will begin at Duquesne garden this evening, the first heats of the boys' race being scheduled to take place. As there will be about 50 boys line up for the prizes to be given to the winners of the events for lads under 16 years of age, it is likely that several heats will be required to determine who are entitled to the trophies.

At 9 o'clock the ice will be cleared and the youthful and aspiring skaters will line up on the mark for the crack of the pistol. As usual Prof. Edwards, the well-known starter, will send the boys on their journey around the rink, while Ed. O'Brien, who is managing the races, will act as judge. Competent timers with tested watches, will be sworn in to catch the time of the speeders. All requirements have been lived up to, so that if any records are made they will be accepted by both the skating associations of this country and Canada.

OVER 2,300 ENTRIES.

Annual Dog Show of Westminster Kennel Club Will Be a Record-Breaker.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—For the annual bench show of the Westminster Kennel club, which will be held in Madison Square Garden from February 19 to 22, the entry list is the largest by far of any show ever held in this country. Last year was a record-breaker, but this year the number of entries for the various classes is more than 200 larger.

This is due to several reasons. The premium list is greater than at any show in the past and the number of special cups has been increased. Probably never in the history of dog shows have so many cups been donated to be won outright, to say nothing of the many challenge cups and other prizes. Over 2,300 canines have thus far been entered.

East Liberty Wants Games.

The East Liberty basketball team, by defeating South Side on Saturday evening, further brightened their good record. East Liberty has now played seven games, winning five and losing two, which is a good record, without considering the fact that the team has no home hall and plays all games on their opponents' floors. The East Liberty team wants to hear from all good teams in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio for games. Address all communications to Box 42, Station A, Pittsburgh.

NEW POLITICAL PARTY TO BE ORGANIZED

Meeting Will Be Held in Washington in April—Will Be Called the "Justice Party."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The executive committee of what is known as the Justice party has decided to call a national convention to meet in Washington April 19, 1902. One of the chief demands of this party is that aged and decrepit ex-slaves shall be wards of the entire nation and be provided for as public pensioners. The foundations of the party are stated to be:

Justice to the needy and worthy ex-slaves, whose good conduct before and since the war has proved them deserving.

Justice to the southern taxpayers.

Justice to every man of every color, creed and clime.

Justice for our own people, justice to the Cubans, to the Hawaiians, the Porto Ricans, Justice for every foreigner who comes to assist in developing the manufacturing, commercial, mining or transportation resources of our great country.

Justice for the Jew and justice for the Gentile.

Justice for the protestant, the Catholic, or the follower of any other creed or sect.

Justice for the rich and justice for the poor —that justice which holds sacred the rights of wealth, but no less carefully protects those of the poorest vagabond.

Justice which guarantees to all the fullest personal liberty which does not infringe upon the rights of others.

Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you.

AGED WOMEN TO SPEAK.

Woman's Suffrage Congress Will Be Addressed by Speakers All Over 78 Years Old.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 9.—The International Woman's Suffrage congress will be called to order in this city Wednesday and will remain in session about a week. Already a few of the leaders in the woman suffragist movement are in the city.

Miss Susan B. Anthony, who relinquished the presidency of the National American Woman Suffrage association two years ago, has arrived here and will preside the first evening, when addresses will be made by the pioneers in the suffrage cause. The speakers that evening all will be more than 78 years of age. Miss Anthony has completed the fourth volume of her history of the woman suffrage movement, on which she has been at work for two years.

NEW LAWS URGED FOR THE CONTROL OF COMBINES

The Industrial Commission Made the Second Part of Report Public.

FOR LEGAL UNIFORMITY

It Advocates Same Anti-Trust Laws for All Jurisdictions, and the Adoption of Massachusetts Anti-Stock-Watering Statute.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 9.—The second part of the report of the industrial commission was made public today. It covers manufactures and industrial combinations and in its recommendations quotes from its report to congress in 1900, in which it then recommended:

That the promoters and organizers of corporations or industrial combinations which look to the public to purchase or deal in their stocks or securities should be required to furnish full details regarding the organization, and that any prospectus or announcement of any kind soliciting subscriptions, which fails to make full disclosures as aforesaid, or which is false, should be deemed fraudulent.

Books Must Be Open.

That all information concerning the corporation should be open to investors, and that the larger corporations—the so-called trusts—should be required to publish annually a properly audited report, showing in reasonable detail their assets and liabilities, with profit or loss; such report and audit under oath to be subject to government inspection.

In addition to the above the commission now recommends:

That district attorneys of the United States be authorized and directed to institute proceedings for violations of the federal anti-trust laws.

To Enforce the Laws.

That combinations and conspiracies, in the form of trusts or otherwise, in restraint of trade or production, which, by the consensus of judicial opinion are unlawful, should be so declared by legislation uniform in the jurisdictions, and as to all persons, and such statutes should be thoroughly enforced.

That stringent laws be enacted by the congress and the several state legislatures, making both penal and criminal the vicious practice of discriminating between customers and cutting rates or prices in one locality below those which prevail generally, for the purpose of destroying local competition.

Damages Should Be Allowed.

That such laws should give to any person damaged the right to sue for and recover prescribed penalties, and make it the duty of prosecuting officers to proceed against the offenders.

That, to prevent overcapitalization, the several state legislatures enact laws similar to the anti-stock watering laws of Massachusetts; also to provide for state supervision of all public service corporations, with power to recommend or regulate rates for service and to pass upon the public need, desirability, or exigency of any proposed new service.

Annual Franchise Tax Urged.

That an annual franchise tax be imposed upon all state corporations engaged in interstate commerce, calculated upon the gross earnings of each corporation from its interstate business; that the minimum rate of such tax be low, but that the rate be gradually increased with increases in earnings.

That there be created in the trade a permanent bureau the duties of which shall be to register all state corporations engaged in interstate or foreign commerce; to require such corporations all reports needed to enable the government to levy a franchise tax with certainty and justice, and to collect the same; to such corporations, as will guarantee the correctness and accuracy of the information needed to ascertain whether such corporations are observing the conditions prescribed in the act, and to enforce penalties against delinquents.

That this bureau shall collate and publish information regarding such corporations and the industries in which they may be engaged, so as to furnish to the congress proper information for possible future legislation.

That, if a department of commerce and industry shall be established, one of its functions should be to call attention, from time to time, to such economic changes in the world's progress as may suggest tariff modifications, and also to study commercial treaties as may suggest reciprocal legislation or arrangements, and, furthermore, to any evils incident to combinations which changes in the tariff will correct.

That in view of the extent and perfection of our manufactures, of our growing export trade and the sharp competition it encounters in foreign markets, of the practice by some exporters of making lower prices abroad than at home, and of the desirability of protecting the consumer as well as the producer, without awaiting other legislation, that congress provide for a commission to investigate and study the subject and report as soon as possible what concessions in duties may be made without endangering wages or employment at home; what advantages abroad may be obtained therefor, and also to suggest measures best suited to gain the ends desired.

PHILIPPINE BILL FOREMOST.

Senator Lodge Will Try to Force a Decision on the Measure This Week.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The Philippine question will continue to hold foremost place on the senate calendar during the present week, but there is little probability that the Philippine bill will be disposed of before the close of the week. Democratic senators say they will require several weeks more time in which to consider the measure. Senator Lodge, as chairman of the committee having the bill in charge, has not failed to impress upon them his intention of pressing it with the utmost dispatch consistent with due consideration of so important a measure.

Senator Quarles will report the permanent census bill tomorrow, before the Philippine bill is taken up, and will make an effort to secure immediate consideration. If he succeeds the census bill probably will alternate with the Philippine bill for a few days. The irrigation bill also occupies a place of vantage on the senate calendar.

On Friday Senator Penrose will ask the senate to listen to eulogies on the late Representative Brosius of Pennsylvania.

For pain around the heart and palpitations. Nothing else so good.

MONEY BACK. Any dissatisfied purchaser of Allen's Atropium Plaster may have his money back by addressing the manufacturer.

AMERICAN PROTECTION SWELLS CUBAN EXPORTS

Imports Decreased 3 Per Cent in 1901 and Outgoing Merchandise Increased 44 Per Cent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 9.—Col. Edwards, chief of the division of insular affairs of the war department, made public today a comparative statement concerning the commerce of Cuba for the seven months ended July 31, 1901, 1900 and 1899.

It is shown that the total value of merchandise imported during the seven months ending July 31, 1901, was $37,909,286 against $39,222,998 for the same period of 1900, and $34,624,567 in 1899; and the total value of merchandise exported during the seven months ending July 31, 1901, was $46,686,732 against $22,398,927 for the same period of 1900, and $21,945,490 in 1899; showing a decrease of 3 per cent in the value of imports in the period of 1901 as compared with that of 1900, and an increase of 44 per cent in the value of exports for the period of 1901 as compared with that of 1900.

The trade by countries shows that the value of the merchandise imported during the stated period of 1901, from the United States, was $15,915,376, a decrease of 6 per cent as compared with the same period of 1900 and an increase of about 1 per cent as compared with 1899. As to exports to the United States it is shown that their value during the period last year was $28,062,624, an increase of 49 per cent over 1900 and 26 per cent over 1899.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 9.—The river at 6 p. m. marks 10.1 feet and falling fast. Weather clear and cold. The temperature today was estimated to be at least 7 to 10 inches above the Louisville & Nashville bridge, and in spots reaches from shore to shore above that point. The J. B. Lavin arrived with a tow of coal from above today. She will go to the shore until the weather moderates. The barber boat Keller was busy all day sounding out the channel in the vicinity of the approaches of a closed river. Packet business is entirely suspended and will not be resumed until the weather and river conditions are more favorable.

Evansville—The river fell 1.2 feet today, now registering 27.9 feet. Weather clear and cold. The Oakland, with 35 passengers, passed down at 10 a. m. The Queen & Crescent packet will go into the canal to lay up on account of the heavy ice which is running and making all craft try to get into the canal for safety.

CAIRO—The gauge reads 34.4 feet tonight, a fall of .2 foot in 24 hours. Weather cloudy and cold. The Charlotte Boechler arrived from below at 1:30 p. m. with barges of coal.

MEMPHIS—The river here stands 25 feet on the gauge, a rise of .3 in 24 hours. All the local packets today were on time. No arrivals or departures of transient steamers today.

WHEELING—River 6 feet 8 inches and falling slowly and still full of heavy ice. Cloudy and cool.

PARKERSBURG—River 8.5 feet and falling. Cloudy and cold. No boats.

POINT PLEASANT—River 8 feet 10 inches and falling. Cloudy and cold. No boats.

GREENSBORO—River 7 feet 8 inches and falling. River closed. Cloudy and cold.

GALLIPOLIS—River 10 feet and falling. All the boats have gone to the bank. Cloudy and cold.

STEUBENVILLE—River 8 feet 6 inches and falling. Clear and cold.

MARIETTA—River 6.5 feet and falling. Clear and cold.

OIL CITY—River 2 feet 10 inches and stationary. Cold and light snow.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet 9 inches and stationary. Cold and light snow.

WARREN—River 1 foot. Snowing and cold.

News of the Rivers.

The towboat Oakland is below Evansville on her way in New Orleans with a coal tow.

Capt. John F. Dravo returned yesterday from Washington, Capt. L. Short is expected home today or tomorrow.

All of the Ohio river packets are tied up, and the boats will not be able to resume until there is a rise in the rivers to force out the ice.

A company has been formed in New Orleans with Capt. A. M. Halliday president, for building a new style of river boats whose operating will be done by electricity. It is said says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. The design of the boats is that stated. "The boats are known as light draft, turret boats, and small vessel has been constructed as to be able to carry from 40 to 60 tons of freight with a maximum draft of 2 feet 6 inches, and a speed of 12 miles an hour."

Capt. Henry Leghe is developing plans for a new boat to be built by the Eagle Packet Company this year. The proposed boat will be adapted to the excursion as well as for the general travel business, and it is the intention of the company to have it ready for excursion business during the St. Louis World's Fair. Capt. Leghe has designed all the boats of the Eagle Packet Company, having prepared the plans for the original Gray Eagle in 1884. The new boat will be 230 feet long and 45 feet beam. The contract for building has not yet been let.

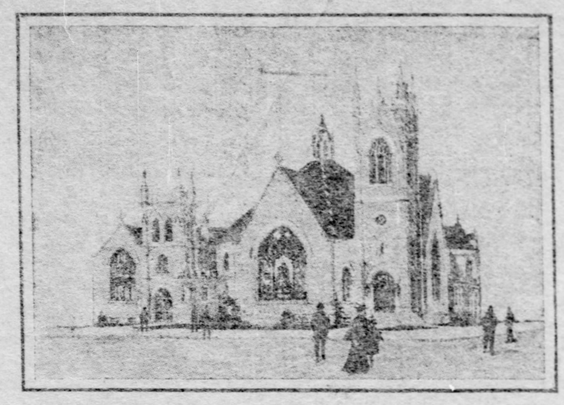
WITH SOLEMN SERVICE, CHURCH IS DEDICATED

First Presbyterian Congregation of McKeesport Opens New Edifice.

BUILDING COST $60,000

Non-Arrival of Pipe Organ, Built at a Cost of $7,500, Had Long Delayed the Celebration--Church Was Founded by Pioneers.

With solemn religious ceremony the new First Presbyterian church of McKeesport, the Rev. Dr. J. J. McCarrell, pastor, was dedicated to the service of God yesterday morning. It was the religious event in the Tube City, and the beautiful edifice was thronged with worshipers. There was a large gathering of the clergy from various parts of the county and several from other states. At 10:30 an organ voluntary sounded through every part of the sacred edifice and a deep, religious quiet crept over it. When the note of the organ died away the Rev. Kinley McMillan of the Central Presbyterian church of McKeesport offered the first prayer in the new church, at the conclusion of which the Rev. Dr. G. W. F. Birch of Bethany church, New York city, a brother-in-law of the pastor, mounted the pulpit and preached the dedicatory sermon.



First Presbyterian Church, McKeesport.

Formal Dedication.

Dr. McCarrell then read a brief history of the congregation. When he had done the entire congregation, according to the rules of the presbytery, arose and with one voice formally dedicated their church to the services of God in these words: "This house, which we have been permitted to build, through the gracious favor of divine providence, we do now solemnly dedicate to the worship and service of Almighty God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost." This was supplemented by a dedicatory prayer by the pastor.

In the afternoon services were held in the interest of the Sunday school, addresses being made by W. C. Lilley, superintendent of the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, and J. C. Armstrong, superintendent of the Park Avenue Sunday school.

The Afternoon Services.

The fraternal service, in which all the McKeesport pastors participated, was held at 3:30 o'clock. In the evening a young people's meeting was held, the addresses being made by Kennedy Crumrine of Pittsburgh and United States District Attorney S. J. M. McCarrell of Harrisburg, a brother of the pastor. The Rev. Robert Christie of the Western Theological seminary, Allegheny, preached in the evening.

As already stated in The Gazette, the new church is of Gothic design, with walls of Indiana limestone and a tile roof. It cost $60,000 and the new pipe organ cost $7,500. This instrument was not completed at the time expected and the dedicatory services have been delayed for a long time because of its nonappearance.

Were First Settlers.

The Presbyterians were the first settlers of McKeesport, John McKee, who laid out the town, being of that faith. The first church in that city was erected on the site of the present one in 1819 by Mr. McKee. It was one story high. In 1842 the building was razed and a larger structure put up. Ten years later it was torn down and another erected, which eventually made way for the present structure. The first regular pastor of the church was the Rev. Alexander McCandless, who was called in 1824 and preached until 1857, for a salary of $150 a year. In 1890 he organized the first Sunday school in McKeesport.

The Old Pastors.

Other pastors who served the McKeesport Presbyterians were the Revs. John Burton, William Eaton, Samuel Hill, P. H. Jacobs, Nathaniel West, R. F. Wilson, G. W. Hare, J. W. Wightman, Samuel McBride, George N. Johnson and the present pastor, the Rev. J. J. McCarrell. The first elders were William Penny, William Sill and James Evans. Their descendants are numerous about McKeesport and are among the most prominent families of the city. The present membership roll of the church carries over 700 names and more than $4,000 a year is collected for the various purposes of church work.

DR. KETLER PREACHED.

President of Grove City College Filled the Rev. S. Edward Young's Pulpit Yesterday.

The Rev. Dr. Isaac C. Ketler, Ph. D., president of Grove City college, filled the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church yesterday, in the absence of the Rev. S. Edward Young. Taking for his text, "For whosoever will save his life shall loose it; and whosoever will loose his life for my sake shall find it," he preached an eloquent sermon on "self-renunciation." He said in part:

"The commercial idea rules the masses—so much for so much. How much money, how much prestige and power will this or that course of activity bring? How shall we secure and how shall we hold this or that place of profit and power? It is here we find the gospel of self existing its mighty influence.

"In the highest and holiest walks, talent and tact are prostituted for personal, selfish ends. Time-servers and wage-seekers are the classes under which you may enroll the masses of men. Self, with its wide periphery of selfish plans and purposes, limits the outlook of the great mass of humanity.

"We seek happiness as if happiness were ours by right. We fret and fume and assume the air of injured greatness because, forsooth, the world has not sufficiently honored and recognized us.

"It is in self-renunciation, however, that men find their happiness and power. True, like Jacob, we may accumulate by the sharp practices of a commercial age, a wealth of means to minister to the precious me which dominates us; yet it is only in the practices of self-denial that we meet the satisfaction for the native longings of the soul.

"It is only the unconditional surrender of all to Christ which gives us real and vital power with men. The men and women who have left the most indelible impress upon the age in which they live are those who renounced every allurement to personal ambition, and devoted themselves fully to the work which God would have them do, without a thought of fame. He who works for God and humanity, with no solicitude for himself, has all the forces of God working with him. It is by dying that we live."

West Furnishes Bearish Grain News

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Grains closed a somewhat monotonous week of speculation in much the same fashion of the days previous. Weakness in coarse grains brought dips all around, but the revival of some small strength in wheat buoyed the markets up late in the day. May wheat closed ¼c higher, May corn ⅝c lower, and May oats ¼c down. Provisions closed unchanged to 5c lower.

The leading futures, corrected by John D. Armstrong & Co., members of the Chicago board of trade, 209 Sixth street, are as follows:

Cold! Cold!! Cold!!!

The present cold spell is not doomed to sudden extinction, according to the word given out at the weather bureau last night. The indications for today are for continued cold, the weather to be partly cloudy, with occasional snow flurries. The coldest temperature here yesterday was 11 degrees above zero, but there was a wind that made it bite. The highest point was at 4:30 p. m., when the mercury stood at 19 degrees above. Havre, Mont., was the coldest place in the country, the thermometer being at zero, while El Paso, Tex., was the warmest, with 62 degrees. A storm was central over the New England coast and a second storm seemed from the observations to be moving upon the northwest.

CONTRACT LET FOR BRIDGE OVER MONONGAHELA

Crucible Steel Company Will Build Great Structure at Clairton Plant.

COST WILL REACH $600,000

Is Needed to Connect Great New Steel Mill and Furnaces With Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and Baltimore and Ohio Roads.

The Crucible Steel Company of America, through subsidiary corporations covering its extensive improvement operations at the new town of Clairton, Jefferson township, Allegheny county, and along the second pool of the Monongahela river, has let the contracts for a great railway bridge to span the river. The bridge will be nearly 1,000 feet long, will clear pool water by over 50 feet and will cost about $600,000. It will be part of an extensive terminal system for the plants of the Crucible company now going up at Clairton. The plants now being erected include three 400-ton blast furnaces and a large open hearth plant of capacity nearly 1,200 tons daily. This work will be completed in a few months and by that time work will be under way for the terminal railway facilities to give the works communication with the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad on the same side of the river, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, opposite, and possibly the Baltimore & Ohio, nearly two miles distant along the Youghiogheny river.

Pittsburgh Companies Got Contracts.

Heavy steel superstructure for the bridge will be fabricated and erected by the American Bridge Company, the material being fitted at the Pittsburgh district works of the company, probably the new Walker works at Homestead. The bridge will be a two-track structure, of the Pratt-truss style, in bridge engineering.

Its channel span will be 500 feet long. There will be seven spans in all, aggregating in length 980 feet.

The Drake & Stratton Company of Pittsburgh has been awarded the contract for the superstructure, including the eight heavy piers necessary.

Completed, the bridge structure alone will stand as an investment of upward of $600,000. The additional terminal work that will be necessary to link the works that are being erected through the St. Clair Steel Company and the St. Clair Furnace Company will involve a heavy additional expenditure.

Great System Is Planned.

A great yard system, similar to that of Jones & Laughlins, Ltd., in Second avenue, and providing for the delivery of materials overhead and their dumping in the furnace bins, will probably be included in the additional improvements for perfect terminal facilities.

The open hearth steel plant that is being erected at Clairton is on a larger scale than at first intended, when the capacity was planned to be 1,000 tons daily. This construction work, including the blast furnaces and the open hearth steel plant, is being done by the Riter-Conley Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh.

It is understood that the war department at Washington has practically approved the plans for the Crucible company bridge, though there may be additional preparations to be complied with before the company has the final consent of the government to go ahead with its construction.

Little New Work Starting

Operators in the lower southwest had very little to claim their attention during the past week. The cold weather has caused delay at wells due in the sand, and there is but a small amount of new work starting in any quarter. Reports that have been made to several producers outside of the Troutman district have resulted in failures.

The general dull and operating plans have had to be revised.

In Pleasants county the end of the rich producing territory on Bens run has been reached, and there has been a decline in new work. Wildcatting is still quite a feature in several localities in this county. Operators have not abandoned hope of opening up a Keener sand pool on Big Knot run.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side the Graysville territory in Monroe county is still the most active. Near Lewisville operators are trying to extend the area of the Big Lime development, but have not met with success.

Several very good wells were completed in the shallow sand territory, but the dry holes still outnumber the producers. Near Germantown, Washington county, some good work is reported.

Operations in the Big Injun sand development on the south fork of Hughes river, Ritchie county, are increasing, and some important test wells are due in the sand this week. So far the sand formation has not wells have been found. There are a dozen wells drilling in this pool.

Local Fields.

In the local fields but two developments attract any attention. Near Burgettstown, Washington county, fairly good results are reported, and several local companies have developed valuable properties.

The Jurgey pool extension, partly in Beaver county, Pa., and Hancock county, W. Va., is increasing in activity. Several of the wells completed during the week gave a black eye to a western extension of the development.

In Butler county the Speechley sand territory is not attracting much attention. The wildcat efforts that have been made to several producers outside of the Troutman district have resulted in failures.

REGAN'S RHEUMATISM REMEDY GUARANTEED to cure any case of rheumatism in 30 days. Recommended by highest authority to be THE ONE REMEDY that never fails. Thousands of testimonials from patients who have used it and were cured can be seen at our offices.

Mr. Floyd H. Weist, Shippensburg, Cumberland Co., Pa., writes under date of August 9th, 1899. After taking one and a half bottles of Regan's Rheumatism Remedy, I am a well man. I suffered with five of the best doctors in this county and one in the Pennsylvania Hospital at Harrisburg for nine years, and got relief, but was taken with rheumatism on my return home. It was a godsend when I started to take your remedy, for it cured me when I had given up all hopes of ever getting well. I heartily recommend it to any one suffering from rheumatism.

The Sisters of St. Francis, Clinton, Iowa, write under date of January 21, 1900: About six months ago a very reverend clergyman recommended Regan's Rheumatism Remedy to one of our sisters who was a severe sufferer from rheumatism of over three years' duration. After she had used one bottle of the remedy we are pleased to say she was entirely cured. We therefore cheerfully recommend this wonderful remedy to all similarly afflicted and heartily wish it the unlimited success it so richly deserves.

We claim there is no other remedy in the world to equal it.

WEEK SHOWED A LOSS.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges Exhibit a Decrease Compared With the Same Periods in 1901.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for the week ending yesterday showed a decline of more than $1,282,000, compared with the same week last year. This is the first time of the present year that the exchanges have been below the corresponding period a year ago. Compared with the preceding week there was also a loss of about $2,500,000. The exchanges for yesterday, being the fourth day's business of the week, being about $672,000 below those for the same day in 1901. The total for the year to date, however, still shows a big lead over last year, this amounting to $25,460,000 in round numbers. There is no particular reason for the decrease of this week, except that it is comparing with a period that was about the largest in the history of Pittsburgh. It is recalled by those in touch with the local stock market and the height of the remarkable boom that then prevailed. There was no material change in the local money market during the week, but the demand was spotted and mixed, as it has been for several months. This is because of the very uneven distribution of funds, which renders it possible for some institutions to obtain loans at 5 per cent, while others have to refuse them even at 6. The rate for call and time loans still quotes 5@6 per cent. Eastern exchange, which was quite scarce at the opening of the week, became fairly comfortable at the windup and closed in that condition. The detailed clearing house reports are as follows:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
This week	$37,312,026 10	$7,102,754 48
Daily average	6,218,671 26	1,183,792 41
Last week	39,594,026 10	7,102,754 48

This week's decrease	$2,282,000 00
Daily average	6,642,431 74	1,435,082 44

The exchanges for the week ending yesterday, compared with those for the corresponding weeks in previous years, were as follows:
